Armed Robbery Bandit Gets $80

Liquor Store Hit In Hold-Ups
Four Times In Seven Years

A lone armed bandit held up the Mulliner Liquor Store at 2200 O early Wednesday evening making off with a little more than $80.

Ray E. Hoig of 2704 So. 10th, attending the store at the time, said the bandit entered and asked for a package of cigarettes.

When Hoig handed back change for a dollar, the young man, about five foot five inches tall, leveled a long-barreled blue steel pistol at him.

Hoig quoted the bandit as saying, "I want everything out of the register. This is business, boy. I mean it. I'll plug you."

Hoig said he scooped the contents of the register—all except pennies and a few rolls of coins—into a paper bag and handed it to the youth.

The bandit then fled, apparently into a waiting auto. He left his 77 cents change for the cigarettes lying on the counter.

Liquor store owner Harry Mulliner set the loss at $80.45. Mulliner said this was the fourth hold-up at the store in the past seven years.

The last stick-up of the liquor store was on Feb. 5, 1952, when two men bound, gagged and slugged a clerk and made off with $63.

The holdup was later solved when two Omaha men admitted the robbery. Both are now serving 25-year sentences in Iowa for another robbery.

State Enjoys Pleasant Day; More To Come

Nebraskans all over the state enjoyed a nice day Wednesday, and warmer temperatures were anticipated for Thursday.

No further rain or snow was reported Wednesday, giving residents in those areas buried in snow a chance to dig out.

All highways in the state were open by Wednesday evening, the Highway Department said, although gravel roads were still "pretty muddy."

Icy patches and drifted snow had caused motorists trouble in several areas earlier Wednesday.

Power had been restored to Valentine Wednesday, after the entire vicinity had been stripped of lines by the storm. About 25 per cent of rural power lines in the area were to be restored by Thursday and the rest by Saturday.

Thursday's weather outlook was for generally fair skies in the West and warmer temperatures, to reach the 60s in the northeast to 70 southwest.

High readings in the state varied within a range of four degrees, with a high of 58 reported at Chadron and 62 at Lincoln.

The early Wednesday low temperature was 19 at Scottsbluff, Chadron had 27 and Imperial 29, but all other points reported lows in the 40s.

Good Weather,
More Rain Would Start Crop Nicely

"If we can have a week of nice weather so the farmers can get in spring seeding and then get an inch or two of rain we'll be doing fine," a Government agricultural observer said Wednesday.

Long-overdue moisture this week brought a new bright glow to the state's farm outlook. "A wonderful starter" was the description generally applied to the precipitation.

Kenneth E. Logan of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said he doubted if there was much run-off from the rain and snow as the ground was so dry. The moisture, he said, is probably sinking right into the ground where it will do the most good.

Kefauver To Talk Twice In Omaha

OMAHA (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, entered in the Nebraska Democratic presidential primary, will make two addresses here Thursday.

He was expected to talk politics at a luncheon sponsored by the Douglas County Democratic Central Committee at noon.

Then at 3:30 p.m. he will address the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs convention on problems of juvenile delinquency.

REUNITED—AFTER 79 YEARS

Hiram Knox, 96, and his sister, Mrs. Ida Belle Fontana, 81, have a lot to get their heads together about at Lynn, Mass. They hadn't seen each other in 79 years. Knox was separated from the rest of his family as a youth. Mrs. Fontana learned her brother was alive recently when she saw his picture in a New Hampshire newspaper. He was driven down from his home in Pembroke, N. H., for the reunion. (AP Wirephoto.)

Wheel Tax Subbed For Street Bond $5

Mayor Proposes $5 Per Vehicle
To Finance Street Improvements

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Council Wednesday voted informally not to submit a bond issue proposal for street improvements at the June 26 special election.

The Council also took under study a proposal Mayor Clark Jeary that street improvements be financed through an annual "wheel tax." In a report to the Council, Jeary noted that an annual "wheel tax" of $5 on each motor vehicle would produce approximately $200,000 each year.

"This with the gas tax, auto registration fees and federal participation money," Jeary said, "will permit street construction over the years which will carry out any program that the city can foresee at this time."

The $5 "wheel tax" over 10 years would just equal the $2 million bond issue previously suggested to carry out a 10 year improvement program.

Members of the Council expressed informal favor of the "wheel tax" idea.

A special committee composed of the chairman of the Planning Commission, chairman of the Traffic Commission, Councilwoman Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme, Councilman Joseph E. Fenton and Co-ordinator James Mallon was appointed to make a study and recommendations on a method of financing the street improvement program.

Jeary's report also recommended removal of the $4 million sanitary sewer bond issue from the ballot. This was not questioned by the Council. It was expected to be approved with the rest of Jeary's report at Monday's formal Council meeting.

Speaking on removal of the street program from the ballot Jeary said: "It is my candid opinion that the taxpayers of Lincoln should not be requested to approve this plan for a bond issue for street purposes at this time."

"The hospital and library bonds are as much as we should submit from a municipal standpoint. These proposals, together with a proposal that may be submitted by the City-County Building Authority at this time, are the only ones that I think we should submit at this time."

He said the department recognizes the evidence showing that many youngsters are ready for school at 5 or younger, but said "some children just aren't ready."

Under state law, a child may start to school if he is 5 by Oct. 15. For children whose birthday comes after Oct. 15, the school district may set up a testing program.

Children who pass such tests may enter school at 4, while those who do not must wait until the next school year.

U.N. Gives Dag Mandate For Mission

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) — The U. N. Security Council Wednesday night gave Dag Hammarskjold a unanimous go ahead on his Middle East mission to prevent war between the Arabs and Israel.

The Security Council voted 11 to zero for a U.S. resolution spelling out full powers to the U.N. secretary general, on probing for 30 days the causes of the recurring Arab-Israeli crisis.

Hammarskjold consequently is free to leave on his vital peace mission to Israel and the four neighboring Arab states—Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon—at any time. He is packed to go Friday.

To Meet Burns

The secretary general will fly directly to Rome where he will meet for initial consultations with the U.N. Palestine trustee chief Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns of Canada.

Soviet delegate A. A. Sobolev lost his fight to whittle down the peace mission to a mere "friendly visit" and voted for the U.S. resolution after suffering a defeat on a series of amendments which would have hamstrung Hammarskjold in his peace-making efforts.

Sobolev said he voted for the U.S. resolution "because it is acceptable to all parties." He echoed Arab demands that the Hammarskjold mission remain "within the scope" of the Palestine armistice agreements.

Personal Victory

Approval of the American resolution, which was voted intact, came as a personal victory for U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. Through reassuring statements in past days he succeeded in dispelling Arab suspicions about "hidden meanings" in the resolution.

Basic Points

The U.S. proposal outlining Hammarskjold's mission called on the U.N. chief to survey Arab-Israeli observance of the Palestine armistice agreements through personal talks with the respective leaders. It requests him to secure agreement of both parties to the following basic points in the American resolution:

1. Withdrawal of Arab and Israeli forces from the armistice demarcation lines.

2. Full freedom of movement for the U.N. truce observers under Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada to proceed through the demilitarized zone and defensive areas on both sides of the frontiers.

3. Establishment of "local agreements" for prevention of further border clashes and prompt detection of any violations of the armistice agreements.

3 Killed

JERUSALEM (INS) — Israel announced Wednesday night that three of its soldiers were killed and a fourth wounded in a four-hour battle with Egyptian troops along the Gaza coastal strip.

36 Dead

ALGIERS (AP) — Thirty-six rebels were killed in scattered actions in Algeria and Tunisia and scores of others taken prisoner. Reports said only one French soldier was injured.

Demo Farm Belt Gains Seen In Wisconsin Vote

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strong showing of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) in the Wisconsin presidential primary was interpreted generally Wednesday as indicating Democratic gains in the farm belt.

Kefauver ran about 105,000 votes behind President Eisenhower in an arms-length popularity contest in which each was entered in his own party's primary. Returns from 3,236 of the state's 3,321 precincts gave Eisenhower 426,408 and Kefauver 321,830.

In a state where Eisenhower got 61 per cent of the vote in the 1952 general election, the President was cut down to about 55 per cent of Tuesday's total in the two primaries. Kefauver got 42 per cent of the over-all vote.

Unopposed in the Democratic primary, Kefauver collected 28 Democratic national convention nominating votes and gained some ground in that contest. He now has 65½ convention votes, more than five times as many as Adlai E. Stevenson, with 11½.

But Kefauver's showing, unusual as it was, did nothing to demonstrate that he could beat Eisenhower in November in a farm state with Republican leanings.

Democratic hopes for a November victory are based to a great extent on the belief that dissatisfaction in the normally Republican farm areas of the Midwest is sufficient to carry some of those states into the Democratic column in the presidential race.

Eisenhower declined at his news conference Wednesday to analyze the Wisconsin vote. But he said it was "idle to say or to intimate that the farmers have no problem."

While he said it is probably too late for his soil bank program to benefit farmers much this year, he said that before the next wheat planting season starts this fall "we certainly can get a good one." Any such timing apparently would put soil bank checks in the hands of some farmers before the November election.

Eisenhower said farmers "have a right to be somewhat bewildered" about the present situation, but he said they are "very sensible men and know that this administration is trying to do something that is for the good of them."

Sen. Thye, Republican from the neighboring state of Minnesota, conceded that the increased Democratic vote "might be due to the irritation and dejected alarm among farmers caught in the cost-price squeeze."

Sen. Mansfield of Montana, a vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, said he thinks the figures are "very encouraging to the Democrats."

He said the Wisconsin results and those in Minnesota, where the Democrats outpolled the Republicans, "are indicative of the strong feeling of the people in the Midwest" and augur well for the Democrats.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said that although Eisenhower's margin was smaller than in 1952 it is "still a good victory for Eisenhower."

Rehearing To Be Sought On Power Ruling

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP) — The board of the Loup and Platte Public Power Districts decided Wednesday to file a motion for rehearing of the recent State Supreme Court Decision that Consumers Public Power District is not obligated to buy substantially all its power from the Nebraska Public Power System.

No Certainty Of Veto Now

SEN. ELLENDER WARNS IKE MAY
'WIND UP WITH GOOSE EGG'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he would not insist on "perfection" in a farm bill.

His comment, at his news conference, was somewhat of a departure from recent talk in the administration that a veto was likely on any farm bill providing for rigid government price supports.

The legislation now being whipped together calls for rigid supports. It also has a soil bank scheme the administration wants.

Eisenhower indicated he might settle for a farm bill containing things he doesn't like, if the overall effect can be considered good.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, declared that if Eisenhower does veto the omnibus bill and asks instead for only a soil bank measure, "He is going to wind up with a goose egg."

Ellender and other Senate-House conferees have agreed on a one-year extension of rigid price supports on major crops—something the President and Secretary of Agriculture Benson blame for piling up huge surpluses.

Eisenhower was asked: "Are you willing to compromise on the price support issue, to get the soil bank through Congress?"

He replied: "The whole bill has to be in front of me before I can say a word."

"Now, I have never been one to say, to believe, that you must hold up good things in order to attain perfection. We have got to get something good, and in its overall effect it must not be bad."

Bipartisan Support

The soil bank plan has bipartisan backing. It provides for government payments to farmers who withhold some of their cropland from production of commodities that are already in surplus.

Eisenhower coupled criticism of the rigid price supports with an expression of belief that a good soil bank system will be operating this fall. He said:

"It would be, of course, idle to say or to intimate that the farmers have no problems. They have many, many problems."

"They have had them for a long time, ever since rigid price supports, too long continued, began to build up surpluses and make it almost impossible to work our way out of the problem without seemingly getting in deeper."

Many Amendments

"There has been so many amendments of a very—very—some of them clumsy, others even worse sort attached to them that whether or not it would help farmers would be problematical."

"Now the soil bank portion of the program which we originally thought would help a great deal this year can't, because it is getting too late. The planting season is right upon us, and you can't take land out once it has been planted to the spring crops."

"But we certainly can get a good one so that before the next wheat planting season this fall starts, that it will be—we will have it."

Eisenhower was led into the farm discussion with a request for comment on the statement by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) that Tuesday's voting in Wisconsin demonstrated farm unrest.

6 Die As N.Y. Wall Buckles

6 Other Firemen Hurt
In Bronx Collapse

NEW YORK (AP) — A fire-weakened wall of a Bronx factory building collapsed Wednesday night as firemen fought the blaze, and six firemen were crushed to death.

Six others, including the acting chief of the city's fire department, Antonio Petronelli, were injured in the collapse, but not seriously.

Firemen had sent out four alarms on the blaze in the one-story artificial flower factory. Top fire officials, including Commissioner Edward Cavanagh, were watching when the wall started to tumble.

A metal framed marquee, its inside supports weakened by the fire, was blamed for the tragedy.

Looked Down

Fireman Joseph O'Keefe said he was 15 feet up a ladder against the front wall of the building when he heard someone cry "Watch it!"

He said he looked down and saw the wall sway.

Then the ladder was tossed outward.

O'Keefe was flung clear but firemen William Hoolan and Arthur Hansen, who were below him on the ladder, were crushed to death by falling masonry.

Also killed was a lieutenant, John Malloy; an aide to Chief Petronelli, Charles Infosino, and firemen Edward Carroll and Fred Hellauer.

Came Down

Commissioner Cavanagh gave this eyewitness account: "I was standing with Chief Petronelli, Deputy Commissioner (George F.) Mand and their aides when the 20x10-foot marquee, overhanging the main entrance, began to come down."

"There were cries of warning as it pulled part of the wall with it. The shock as it hit the sidewalk did the rest."

"The falling debris crushed firemen and cut powerlines, plunging the whole area into darkness as the street lights went out."

"The lack of lights, combined with dense smoke, made fire-fighting conditions extremely perilous."

Cavanagh himself was struck by a chunk of flying brick but an ambulance doctor said the commissioner refused medical aid.

Armed Robbery Bandit Gets $80

Liquor Store Hit In Hold-Ups Four Times In Seven Years

A lone armed bandit held up the Mulliner Liquor Store at 2200 O early Wednesday evening making off with a little more than $80.

Ray E. Hoig of 2704 So. 10th, attending the store at the time, said the bandit entered and asked for a package of cigarettes.

Hoig said he scooped the contents of the register—all except pennies and a few rolls of coins—into a paper bag and handed it to the youth.

The bandit then fled, apparently into a waiting auto. He left his 77 cents change for the cigarettes laying on the counter.

Liquor store owner Harry Mulliner set the loss at $80.45. Mulliner said this was the fourth hold-up at the store in the past seven years.

The last stick-up of the liquor store was on Feb. 5, 1952, when two men bound, gagged and slugged a clerk and made off with $663.

The holdup was later solved when two Omaha men admitted the robbery. Both are now serving 25-year sentences in Iowa for another robbery.

Wheel Tax Subbed For Street Bond $$

Mayor Proposes $5 Per Vehicle To Finance Street Improvements

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Council Wednesday voted informally not to submit a bond issue proposal for street improvements at the June 26 special election.

The Council also took under study a proposal Mayor Clark Jeary that street improvements be financed through a new annual "wheel tax." In a report to the Council, Jeary noted that an annual "wheel tax" of $5 on each motor vehicle would produce approximately $200,000 each year.

"This with the gas tax, auto registration fees and federal participation money," Jeary said, "will permit street construction over the years which will carry out any program that the city can foresee at this time."

The $5 "wheel tax" over 10 years would just equal the $2 million bond issue previously suggested to carry out a 10 year improvement program.

Members of the Council expressed informal favor of the "wheel tax" idea.

A special committee composed of the chairman of the Planning Commission, chairman of the Traffic Commission, Councilwoman Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme, Councilman Joseph E. Fenton and Co-ordinator James Mallon was appointed to make a study and recommendations on a method of financing the street improvement program.

Jeary's report also recommended removal of the $4 million sanitary sewer bond issue from the ballot. This was not questioned by the Council. It was expected to be approved with the rest of Jeary's report at Monday's formal Council meeting.

Speaking on removal of the street program from the ballot Jeary said:

"It is my candid opinion that the taxpayers of Lincoln should not be requested to approve this plan for a bond issue for street purposes at this time."

"The hospital and library bonds are as much as we should submit from a municipal standpoint. These proposals, together with a proposal that may be submitted by the City-County Building Authority and increased levies which we know must come from the School District, is as large an increase of mill levies as homeowners can absorb this year."

In support of a "wheel tax" the mayor said that all expenses of growth of the city cannot continually be absorbed by real estate. The "wheel tax" would come out of the people's pocketbook, he said, but it would also bring revenue from some who make no direct real estate tax payments.

Such a tax, he said, would not have to be $5. It could be changed from year to year, he said, as demands and the availability of federal matching funds calls for.

Jeary stated in his report that, while not abandoning future planning for new improvements, "we also have an obligation to better maintain what we already have and to do things with reference to traffic problems as they presently exist."

Demo Farm Belt Gains Seen In Wisconsin Vote

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strong showing of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) in the Wisconsin presidential primary was interpreted generally Wednesday as indicating Democratic gains in the farm belt.

Kefauver ran about 105,000 votes behind President Eisenhower in an arms-length popularity contest in which each was entered in his own party's primary. Returns from 3,236 of the state's 3,321 precincts gave Eisenhower 426,408 and Kefauver 321,830.

In a state where Eisenhower got 61 per cent of the vote in the 1952 general election, the President was cut down to about 55 per cent of Tuesday's total in the two primaries. Kefauver got 42 per cent of the over-all vote. John Chapple, running as a GOP favorite son candidate opposed to Eisenhower's foreign policies, fielded about 3 per cent.

Unopposed in the Democratic primary, Kefauver collected 28 Democratic national convention nominating votes and gained some ground in that contest. He now has 65½ convention votes, more than five times as many as Adlai E. Stevenson, with 11½.

But Kefauver's showing, unusual as it was, did nothing to demonstrate that he could beat Eisenhower in November in a farm state with Republican leanings.

Democratic hopes for a November victory are based to a great extent on the belief that dissatisfaction in the normally Republican farm areas of the Midwest is sufficient to carry some of those states into the Democratic column in the presidential race.

He said the Wisconsin results and those in Minnesota, where the Democrats outpolled the Republicans, "are indicative of the strong feeling of the people in the mid-west" and augur well for the Democrats.

Rehearing To Be Sought On Power Ruling

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP) — The board of the Loup and Platte Public Power Districts decided Wednesday to file a motion for rehearing of the recent State Supreme Court Decision that Consumers Public Power District is not obligated to buy substantially all its power from the Nebraska Public Power System.

NPPS is owned jointly by the Loup and Platte Districts. The high court ruling, in effect, said Consumers has the right to build generating facilities in eastern Nebraska.

The Loup and Platte boards said the basis for their rehearing request was that several questions were unanswered in the decision, particularly in regard to future financing for expansion. The boards said they felt there was need for clarification of several points in the decision.

No Certainty Of Veto Now

SEN. ELLENDER WARNS IKE MAY 'WIND UP WITH GOOSE EGG'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he would not insist on "perfection" in a farm bill.

His comment, at his news conference, was somewhat of a departure from recent talk in the administration that a veto was likely on any farm bill providing for rigid government price supports.

The legislation now being whipped together calls for rigid supports. It also has a soil bank scheme the administration wants.

Eisenhower indicated he might settle for a farm bill containing things he doesn't like, if the overall effect can be considered good.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, declared that if Eisenhower does veto the omnibus bill and asks instead for only a soil bank measure, "He is going to wind up with a goose egg."

Ellender and other Senate-House conferees have agreed on a one-year extension of rigid price supports on major crops—something the President and Secretary of Agriculture Benson blame for piling up huge surpluses.

Eisenhower was asked: "Are you willing to compromise on the price support issue, to get the soil bank through Congress?"

He replied: "The whole bill has to be in front of me before I can say a word."

"Now, I have never been one to say, to believe, that you must hold up good things in order to attain perfection. We have got to get something good, and in its overall effect it must not be bad."

Bipartisan Support

The soil bank plan has bipartisan backing. It provides for government payments to farmers who withhold some of their cropland from production of commodities that are already in surplus.

Eisenhower coupled criticism of the rigid price supports with an expression of belief that a good soil bank system will be operating this fall. He said:

"It would be, of course, idle to say or to intimate that the farmers have no problems. They have many, many problems."

"They have had them for a long time, ever since rigid price supports, too long continued, began to build up surpluses and make it almost impossible to work our way out of the problem without seemingly getting in deeper."

Many Amendments
"There has been so many amendments of a very—a very—some of them clumsy, others even worse sort attached to them that whether or not it would help farmers would be problematical."

"Now the soil bank portion of the program which we originally thought would help a great deal this year can't, because it is getting too late. The planting season is right upon us, and you can't take land out once it has been planted to the spring crops."

"But we certainly can get a good one so that before the next wheat planting season this fall starts, that it will be—we will have it."

Eisenhower was led into the farm discussion with a request for comment on the statement by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) that Tuesday's voting in Wisconsin demonstrated farm unrest.

The children in the Lincoln schools at present who were admitted at 4 have "been very successful so far," he stated.

Since the program was begun in Lincoln, 39 children were admitted in 1953, 63 in 1954 and 73 in 1955.

6 Die As N.Y. Wall Buckles

6 Other Firemen Hurt In Bronx Collapse

NEW YORK (AP)—A fire-weakened wall of a Bronx factory building collapsed Wednesday night as firemen fought the blaze, and six firemen were crushed to death.

Six others, including the acting chief of the city's fire department, Antonio Petronelli, were injured in the collapse, but not seriously.

Firemen had sent out four alarms on the blaze in the one-story artificial flower factory. Top fire officials, including Commissioner Edward Cavanagh, were watching when the wall started to tumble.

A metal framed marquee, its inside supports weakened by the fire, was blamed for the tragedy.

Looked Down

Fireman Joseph O'Keefe said he was 15 feet up a ladder against the front wall of the building when he heard someone cry "Watch it!"

He said he looked down and saw the wall sway.

Then the ladder was tossed outward.

O'Keefe was flung clear but firemen William Hoolan and Arthur Hansen, who were below him on the ladder, were crushed to death by falling masonry.

Also killed were a lieutenant, John Malloy; an aide to Chief Petronelli, Charles Infosino, and firemen Edward Carroll and Fred Hellauer.

Came Down

Commissioner Cavanagh gave this eyewitness account:

"I was standing with Chief Petronelli, Deputy Commissioner (George F.) Mand and their aides when the 20x15-foot marquee, overhanging the main entrance, began to come down."

"There were cries of warning as it pulled part of the wall with it. The shock as it hit the sidewalk did the rest."

"The falling debris crushed firemen and cut powerlines, plunging the whole area into darkness as the street lights went out."

"The lack of lights, combined with dense smoke, made fire-fighting conditions extremely perilous."

Cavanagh himself was struck by a chunk of flying brick but an ambulance doctor said the commissioner refused medical aid.

Law Allowing 4-Year-Olds To Go To School Faces Another Repeal Attempt

By SUE HOLBERT
Star Staff Writer

The State Department of Education plans to recommend that the Legislature give consideration to repealing a law which allows some children to enter kindergarten while they are still 4 years old, State Education Commissioner F. B. Decker said.

Under state law, a child may start to school if he is 5 by Oct.

15. For children whose birthday comes after Oct. 15, the school district may set up a testing program.

Children who pass such tests may enter school at 4, while those who do not must wait until the next school year.

Decker stated, "We are not convinced that the testing program is educationally unsound, but we also are not convinced that its educational soundness offsets the administrative headaches involved."

"Some Aren't Ready"

He said the department recognizes the evidence showing that many youngsters are ready for school at 5 or younger, but said "some children just aren't ready."

Decker said many school superintendents feel that after two or three years of school the children admitted early are not up with the older youngsters.

The testing program is intended to determine the child's intelligence, emotional and physical development and other factors which have bearing on the success or failure of a child in school, Decker continued.

He said the tests are "a terrific headache to administer" because "all parents feel their children are brighter than others." Parents whose children pass think the program is wonderful and those whose youngsters fail find "a million faults" with it, Decker expounded.

He said the county superintendents arrange the tests and procure qualified psychologists to give them, but many parents demand that a second test be given their child if he failed, or try to get their child tested after the deadline.

The Legislature two years ago passed a bill to repeal the law which allows the tests, but the governor at that time, Robert Crosby, vetoed it on the basis that studies then were being made to determine the educational soundness of the plan.

Decker said he anticipated a great deal of opposition from parents who want their children to start school at 4.

Julius Humann, director of the Lincoln public school guidance, pupil accounting, research and special education department, said the testing program is conducted in Lincoln, and that the test standards set by the Lincoln School Board are "quite high."

He said he felt that if a child passes a test given under high enough standards, he is ready for kindergarten.

In Lincoln, the child must register a mental age of 6.3 as of Sept. 1 in the test in order to be admitted at 4, and only children whose birthdays fall between Oct. 15 and Dec. 31 are tested.

"When a child scores high enough to pass, he is still a leader even in competition with older children," Humann said.

The children in the Lincoln schools at present who were admitted at 4 have "been very successful so far," he stated.

Since the program was begun in Lincoln, 39 children were admitted in 1953, 63 in 1954 and 73 in 1955.

—PRESIDENT IS IRRITATED—

Congress Alone Directs War--Ike

Repeats He Will Never Send America Off To Conflict Without Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declared in forceful tones Wednesday that he never will send America off to war "until Congress directs it."

This was a restatement of an old position for the President, as was his word that in some instances American troops might have to act in self-defense without advance congressional approval. But it stood out at his news conference because of the emphasis he put into it and his obvious exasperation that anyone would even ask about it.

Also at the news conference: 1. Eisenhower said the nation's farmers "have a right to be somewhat bewildered," but he didn't go along with the idea that the presidential primary election in Wisconsin Tuesday reflected great rural unrest over administration farm policy. He said he won't insist on a farm bill that meets all his ideas of perfection.

2. The President didn't go along, either, with the view of his top assistant, Sherman Adams, that Democratic leaders in Congress are deliberately frustrating the administration's legislative program in this election year. While there may be too much partisanship at times, Eisenhower said, "For myself, I believe that in general the people in the Congress are trying to do what they believe to be best for the United States."

3. The repudiation of Stalin in Russia, Eisenhower said, might represent "the beginning of a forced reformation of some kind"—if it were indicative of dissatisfaction among the masses of people behind the Iron Curtain. But, he added, he and Secretary of State Dulles agree that "there is no discernible basic change" in Communist objectives.

4. Eisenhower likened the "strategically important" Mideast to "a stack of jackstraws — every time you touch one you are very apt to move the whole crowd and equilibrium is, to a certain extent, destroyed." He denied he has received any recent communication from British Prime Minister Anthony Eden urging the United States to join in a "firmer line" toward the Middle East.

5. The President said he has considered and rejected the idea of attending nuclear weapon tests in the Pacific next month because "I am trying to prove to the world that my chief interest in the nuclear science is peace."

Laughter Squelched

The question that fired Eisenhower up most brought a quickly quenched spark of laughter when it was asked. A reporter brought up the subject of some 1,500 Marines who joined the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean last month, presumably because of the possibility that trouble might erupt in the Middle East. The reporter asked whether Eisenhower would order those Marines to war "without asking the Congress first."

Labor Issue Strips Circus Opening Of 1st Night Hoopla

NEW YORK (AP) — Stripped of much of its opening night hoopla by a labor dispute, the circus opened Wednesday night with all its old standbys and many imported new ones.

As always, the opening night performance was a benefit. But this time there were no visiting Broadway, television and screen stars to add a frosting of glamor to the traditional spectacle of the circus.

A disagreement with the American Guild of Variety Artists kept the outside performers away, although there was no picket line outside big Madison Square Garden.

Some of the circus performers also refused to appear, including Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey's most celebrated clown, the sad-faced Emmet Kelly. For once the champ clown was not there to try to sweep the spotlight under a rug.

GRACE KELLY, 80 GUESTS SAIL

She Hopes For Big Family

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

ABOARD S.S. CONSTITUTION, — Movie queen Grace Kelly sailed for Monaco Wednesday to marry her Prince.

The blonde princess-to-be said she hoped she and Prince Rainier III would have a large family. She spoke particularly of a son who would rule the principality some day. Either a boy or girl could inherit the throne.

Miss Kelly stood at the railing as the American Export liner Constitution pulled out into New York Harbor and she waved farewell to crowds jamming the pier.

About 80 wedding guests, including her parents from Philadelphia, sailed with her. Her stateroom was banked with flowers from friends and relatives. Many will fly over later for the wedding. As the pier faded into the fog shrouded the harbor, Miss Kelly retired for a before-lunch drink. With her were Mrs. Jay Kanter, one of the bride attendants, Producer Gant Gaither and Nadio Woods, her secretary.

An hour before the Constitution sailed, Miss Kelly met the press. It must have been one of the largest news conferences ever held on shipboard.

She had maintained since her surprise engagement during the Christmas holidays that questions about a family were personal and had declined to answer them.

But this time she told 300 reporters and photographers crammed into the pool cafe of the big black and white liner: "My son will be a Monagasque—a citizen of Monaco."

Any child, boy or girl, would prevent the tiny principality on the Riviera from reverting to France, as would be the case if Prince Rainier's family line is broken. Monacans now pay no taxes and are not drafted into military service, but would be subject to both if they became French subjects.

Miss Kelly and the prince will

W. Germany Shocked By Red's Claim

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany was shocked Wednesday by the remark of Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev that German reunification was not essential to world peace.

Khrushchev's statement at a Kremlin banquet drew banner headlines in the West German press.

In an unusually fast response the Adenauer government said:

"So long as the unnatural division of Germany is not remedied through German unity in peace, an easing of tension in Europe and the entire world will not be possible."

'Concern'

Continued division of Germany must "lead to unrest and concern among the German people and their neighbors," the government said.

Khrushchev's remark was the second shock in a week for Bonn, which had already been dismayed by the declaration of French Premier Guy Mollet that reduction of tension and disarmament could come before German reunification.

Ike Meets Missiles Probers

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower met for nearly 90 minutes Wednesday night with two Republican members of a Senate subcommittee investigating complaints the U.S. is falling behind Russia in its aircraft and guided missiles programs.

The conference, which was set up only shortly before it began, took place in the President's private quarters at the White House.

The senators who took part in it—Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., and James Duff, Pa.—said they had requested the meeting with the chief executive. It lasted until well after 7 p.m.

The investigating subcommittee of which Saltonstall and Duff are members is headed by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), a frequent critic of the administration's air power policies. Symington served as Air Force secretary during the Truman administration.

General

Neither Saltonstall nor Duff would tell newsmen much about their conversation with the President. Saltonstall said: "We just talked generally on a number of things the subcommittee is investigating."

But he admitted that the guided missile program was discussed, as well as "some of the problems and legislation before our subcommittee."

Some observers, though, thought she was close to tears when asked how she felt about leaving the United States.

She was sad, she said, to be leaving her homeland, yet happy and excited like any other girl at getting married. "I hope I will be coming back to America quite often," she added. "My family and friends are here and I have a deep affection for my country."

Farm Conferees Give Tentative OK To Props Boost

WASHINGTON (INS) — House and Senate farm conferees gave tentative approval Wednesday to a provision which would sharply increase price supports for small grains and corn grown in non-commercial areas.

However, to get the greatest price p-o-p benefits under this provision, a farmer would have to cut back production through the soil bank plan.

Supports on corn in non-commercial areas would go up from $1.05 a bushel to $1.39. Based on the national average, supports on grain sorghums would jump from $1.80 a bushel to $2.18, on barley from 93 cents to $1.12 and on oats from 59 cents to 72.

Conference committee chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), said that small grain growers who choose to plant unlimited acreage would be eligible only for the lower, 70 per cent of parity price supports now in effect.

Powell Accepts G.I. Chamber Post

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Ralph D. Powell of Fairbury has been selected as the new manager of the Grand Island Chamber of Commerce, it was announced Wednesday.

Powell succeeds William E. Bauer, who has resigned to become Chamber manager at Springfield, Mo., effective next Monday.

The new manager here will assume his new duties May 1.

Powell, 37, is married and has a six-year-old son. He is a graduate of Beatrice High School and a veteran of World War II.

He has been manager of the Fairbury Chamber since June 14, 1953.

Man Free; Jailed 16 Years In Crime He Didn't Commit

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (INS) — Roy E. Eaton, 52, of Lordsburg, N.M., Wednesday won his freedom from the Illinois State Prison after serving 16 years for a crime he did not commit.

Eaton was ordered freed on a "writ of error" signed by Rock Island County Circuit Court Judge Leonard E. Telleen on a petition filed by state's attorney Bernard J. Moran.

Eaton had been sentenced to a term of from one year to life for the 1938 kidnap-robbery of James L. Crooks, soap salesman, in Rock Island.

Moran asked the court to free Eaton after Louis C. Burall of Davenport, Ia., signed a statement clearing Eaton of the crime.

Burall, recently freed from a federal penitentiary where he served a term for post office robbery, reportedly admitted he and a companion staged the Crooks robbery.

Gruenther's 'Line' Stirs Up Storm

...Germans Irrate

PARIS (AP) — NATO's American commander in Europe drew stormy criticism in Germany and Holland Wednesday with a reported remark that his forces would have to give up Western Germany in event of war.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe with headquarters near here, was quoted in German newspapers as having said that. He also was quoted as having said NATO's defense line must be drawn in southwestern France.

A spokesman at his NATO command post, Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe, told a reporter Gruenther had been misquoted. But West German officials in Bonn and Dutch senators in The Hague had already expressed shock at his reported statements, and Dutch Defense Minister Cornelis Staf had termed it "highly unwise."

Check-Up Ordered

The West German and Netherlands government both ordered their military representatives at SHAPE to inquire officially whether Gruenther had been quoted correctly.

The storm blew up the same day NATO forces were celebrating the 7th birthday of the 15-nation organization and the 5th anniversary of establishment of its European headquarters. The NATO treaty was signed in Washington April 4, 1949. The headquarters was created April 2, 1951.

Ike Told Non-Secret Projects No Field For Loyalty Requirement

... 'Cancer Cure Good, Even If Red'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House received a report Wednesday saying that non-secret scientific research projects are not a proper field for applying government loyalty requirements.

It said, by way of illustration, that an important contribution to the cure of cancer would be just as worthwhile even if it were made by a Communist.

The report was made by a committee set up by Detlev W. Bronk, president of the National Academy of Sciences, Dr. J. A. Stratton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was chairman.

The committee study was asked in January 1955 by Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's chief aid.

Background

In its report, the committee gave this background of the situation:

"In the administration of (federal)

McNerney Seeks GOP Nomination As Commissioner

Robert J. McNerney, 39, of 4294 Starr has filed for the Republican nomination as County Commissioner from the First District.

McNerney, a 1938 University of Nebraska graduate, is assistant director of the Nebraska Real Estate Commission.

During World War II, he was a cost analyst with the U. S. Navy maintenance yards in the San Francisco Bay area. Afterwards, he was a Lincoln real estate broker until accepting the state post.

McNerney is married, has three children who attend Northeast High School. He is a member of the York Rite, Shrine, Elks, and Second Baptist Church.

Four other Republicans have filed for the commissioner post of Incumbent Chris Kuhnner, who is seeking a seat in the Legislature from the 18th District.

The other commissioner candidates are Rollin Bailey, Leonard D. Owen, H. P. Heiliger, and D. L. "Dell" Tyrrell.

Byrd Hospitalized

eral) grants and contracts for unclassified research, which by its very definition has no implication of secrecy, the government has refrained by and large from making inquiries into the personal character of those carrying on the research. There have, however, been incidents when doubts have been raised with respect to the loyalty of specific individuals.

"Such cases will in all probability continue to occur from time to time. The question then arises as to the extent to which the government is obligated to ascertain the loyalty of a scientist—not in the employ of the government—who utilizes public funds on a project that clearly requires no security classification."

The committee submitted these recommendations:

"1. The test in the award of grants and contracts for unclassified research should be the scientific integrity and competence of the individuals responsible for carrying out the research, and the scientific merits of their program.

Evidence

"2. When an official of the government comes into possession of evidence which in his opinion indicates the possible existence of disloyalty in violation of the law, he should promptly refer that information to the federal agencies of law enforcement established to deal with such matters."

"3. An allegation of disloyalty should not by itself be grounds for adverse administrative action on a grant or contract for unclassified research by scientifically competent investigators; if the indications of disloyalty appear sufficiently serious to warrant any action at all, the government, in the opinion of the committee, has no other course than to bring formal charges and to produce the evidence in open hearing before legally constituted authority."

The committee stressed that none of its members condones disloyalty, and then declared:

"We do believe that the proper objectives of government in sponsoring basic research will be best served by concentration on scientific competence alone. The substance of unclassified research entails no secrecy and involves no danger to national security."

The type of research dealt with in the report includes that authorized by universities, hospitals and other nonprofit institutions in such fields as physics, biology, medicine and other sciences.

The White House said the committee report will be studied by heads of various government agencies concerned.

Insurance Meeting Readied

New Gross Product Peak Is Foreseen For 1956 By Insurance Group Official

Joseph M. Bryan, president of the American Life Convention, predicted Wednesday that a new high in gross national product will be reached during 1956.

Bryan, of Greensboro, N. C., is in Lincoln in connection with the Thursday and Friday American Life regional meeting.

He said that although earlier predictions were that business would be at its best during the first six months of 1956, it now looks as if the last half of the year will be the best for business.

More than 170 insurance men were expected to attend the meeting, he said, at which informal discussions of problems and proposals of life insurance will be held.

Mayor Clark Jeary will speak to the group at a Thursday luncheon and Gov. Victor Anderson will speak at an evening banquet.

The American Life Convention is composed of 249 life insurance companies.

Immunizing Order Issued For Dogs

ARTHUR, Neb. (AP) — The Arthur village board has adopted a ruling requiring that dogs in Arthur be immunized against rabies before a dog license can be issued.

This was one of two actions which followed the hospitalization of an Arthur child, bitten by a rabid dog.

The other one was a drive by the Lions Club, which collected more than $150 in the first two days of a fund drive for the parents of James Bryant, the three-year-old who was bitten by the dog. The boy is currently receiving anti-rabies serum at a Denver hospital.

Arson Ruled Out In Fire Of Corncrib

The Lancaster County Sheriff's office Wednesday ruled out possible arson in the Monday night fires which burned a corncrib with 600 bales of hay and a nearby abandoned farm house north of Waverly.

The corncrib fire was believed by neighbors to have sparked in the high winds the vacant house about a quarter-mile away, according to Deputy Sheriff Robert Anderson.

He said empty pop bottles were found near the crib close to the road indicating persons may have been in the area just before the fire. The road is well-known as a lover's lane, he added.

A couple who were stranded over night in a car which ditched one mile from the scene are to be questioned, the deputy said.

But from appearances, the deputy theorized the fire was accidentally caused by a thrown cigarette butt although lightning from Monday night's electrical storm was a possible cause.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp said there apparently was no tie-up between the Monday night fires and two Saturday night which burned a small stack of baled straw and a vacant farm house in a more widely separated area.

Youths Released To Juvenile Court

Two Lincoln youths, ages 16 and 17, have been turned over to Lancaster Juvenile Court authorities in connection with the theft of a 22-caliber rifle.

Police said the rifle, later found at the home of the 16-year-old, belonged to Earl King of 1518 So. 3rd and was taken from his garage Monday.

The 16-year-old boy is also involved in a previous case at Al's Service Station at 602 West A, where some 22-caliber shells were taken, and a game violation involving the shooting of a duck, according to authorities.

Restitution for the window broken in gaining entry to the station has been made to the owner, they said.

Both youths had appeared previously in the Juvenile Probation office in connection with the theft of some shotgun shells.

Suspects Queried In Service Station Theft

The Lancaster County Sheriff's office questioned several suspects in connection with the theft of more than $60 from Abbe Miller's service station at 320 West A.

A station attendant told deputy sheriffs that the money apparently was taken sometime between 9:30 and 11 p.m. Tuesday when he closed the station.

The money was discovered missing from a cash drawer when the attendant started to lock up Tuesday night.

ADD UP THE COST of keeping your present car in top condition this year—new tires—engine work—paint—battery—muffler—brake linings, etc. Then talk to your Plymouth dealer about his modern financing plan; find out how it may actually cost you less money to drive home in a '56 Plymouth—the only all-new car in the low-price three.

"Let's trade! Your present car on a big, all-new, jet-styled Plymouth!"

You'll own the only low-price car that's really new. Plymouth's Aerodynamic profile, as one glance tells, is all new—design of the future today. But the other two low-price cars? They're still about the same as last year and the year before!

You'll own the biggest car in Plymouth's field. You'd have to pay hundreds of dollars more to match Plymouth's generous trunk space, over-all length, and interior roominess. (Plymouth is by far the biggest car in the lowest-price field, both inside and outside.)

You'll own the only low-price car with positive, mechanical Push-Button Driving. Greatest advance in a decade, and only Plymouth has it in its field! Touch a button . . . and you're off. Fool-proof! At left, safely out of children's reach.

You'll own the top performer of the low-price three. Plymouth is fastest from 0 to 30 and 0 to 60 m.p.h., as independent tests show! You get terrific take-off and passing power. Just try that new Hy-Fire V-8—with up to 200 horsepower!

So—bring your present car in now and see how much we'll allow you on a magnificent all-new '56 Plymouth. We'll surprise you! And be sure to ask about our modern financing plan—low, low payments make owning a Plymouth easier than ever! Come on in—let's trade now!

PLYMOUTH costs less

From the day you buy it . . . through all the years you own it . . . you'll spend less on a Plymouth. That's one reason more Plymouths are used to taxi than all other cars combined.

Ike Told Non-Secret Projects No Field For Loyalty Requirement

... 'Cancer Cure Good, Even If Red'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House received a report Wednesday saying that non-secret scientific research projects are not a proper field for applying government loyalty requirements.

It said, by way of illustration, that an important contribution to the cure of cancer would be just as worthwhile even if it were made by a Communist.

The report was made by a committee set up by Detlev W. Bronk, president of the National Academy of Sciences. Dr. J. A. Stratton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was chairman.

The committee study was asked in January 1955 by Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's chief aid.

Background

In its report, the committee gave this background of the situation:

"In the administration of (federal) grants and contracts for unclassified research, which by its very definition has no implication of secrecy, the government has refrained by and large from initiating inquiries into the personal character of those carrying on the research. There have, however, been incidents when doubts have been raised with respect to the loyalty of specific individuals.

"Such cases will in all probability continue to occur from time to time. The question then arises as to the extent to which the government is obligated to ascertain the loyalty of a scientist—not in the employ of the government—who utilizes public funds on a project that clearly requires no security classification."

The committee submitted these recommendations:

"1. The test in the award of grants and contracts for unclassified research should be the scientific integrity and competence of the individuals responsible for carrying out the research, and the scientific merits of their program.

Evidence

"2. When an official of the government comes into possession of evidence which in his opinion indicates the possible existence of disloyalty in violation of the law, he should promptly refer that information to the federal agencies of law enforcement established to deal with such matters.

"3. An allegation of disloyalty should not by itself be grounds for adverse administrative action on a grant or contract for unclassified research by scientifically competent investigators; if the indications of disloyalty appear sufficiently serious to warrant any action at all, the government, in the opinion of the committee, has no other course than to bring formal charges and to produce the evidence in open hearing before legally constituted authority."

The committee stressed that none of its members condones disloyalty, and then declared:

"We do believe that the proper objectives of government in sponsoring basic research will be best served by concentration on scientific competence alone. The substance of unclassified research entails no secrecy and involves no danger to national security. . . .

The type of research dealt with in the report includes that authorized by universities, hospitals and other nonprofit institutions in such fields as physics, biology, medicine and other sciences.

The White House said the committee report will be studied by heads of various government agencies concerned.

McNerney Seeks GOP Nomination As Commissioner

Robert J. McNerney, 39, of 4204 Starr has filed for the Republican nomination as County Commissioner from the First District.

McNerney, a 1938 University of Nebraska graduate, is assistant director of the Nebraska Real Estate Commission.

During World War II, he was a cost analyst with the U. S. Navy maintenance yards in the San Francisco Bay area. Afterwards, he was a Lincoln real estate broker until accepting the state post.

McNerney is married, has three children who attend Northeast High School. He is a member of the York Rite, Shrine, Elks, and Second Baptist Church.

Four other Republicans have filed for the commissioner post of Incumbent Chris Kuhner, who is seeking a seat in the Legislature from the 18th District.

The other commissioner candidates are Rollin Bailey, Leonard D. Owen, H. P. Heiliger, and D. L. "Deli" Tyrrell.

Byrd Hospitalized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) was admitted to a Washington hospital for an operation for hernia.

An office aid said the operation is planned for Thursday. He said he expected the senator would be back in his office in about 10 days or two weeks.

Insurance Meeting Readied

New Gross Product Peak Is Foreseen For 1956 By Insurance Group Official

Joseph M. Bryan, president of the American Life Convention, predicted Wednesday that a new high in gross national product will be reached during 1956.

Bryan, of Greensboro, N. C., is in Lincoln in connection with the Thursday and Friday American Life regional meeting.

He said that although earlier predictions were that business would be at its best during the first six months of 1956 it now looks as if the last half of the year will be the best for business.

More than 170 insurance men were expected to attend the meeting, he said, at which informal discussions of problems and proposals of life insurance will be held.

Mayor Clark Jeary will speak to the group at a Thursday luncheon and Gov. Victor Anderson will speak at an evening banquet.

The American Life Convention is composed of 249 life insurance companies.

Immunizing Order Issued For Dogs

ARTHUR, Neb. (AP) — The Arthur village board has adopted a ruling requiring that dogs in Arthur be immunized against rabies before a dog license can be issued.

This was one of two actions which followed the hospitalization of an Arthur child, bitten by a rabid dog.

The other one was a drive by the Lions Club, which collected more than $150 in the first two days of a fund drive for the parents of James Bryant, the three-year-old who was bitten by the dog. The boy is currently receiving anti-rabies serum at a Denver hospital.

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — A beaming Walt Disney announced that his daughter Diane has made him a grandfather for the second time. The famed cartoonist reported that his daughter, wife of former football star Ron Miller, gave birth to a 7-pound baby girl at a Carmel, Calif., hospital. The Millers have a son, Christopher, 1.

Arson Ruled Out In Fire Of Corncrib

The Lancaster County Sheriff's office Wednesday ruled out possible arson in the Monday night fires which burned a corncrib with 600 bales of hay and a nearby abandoned farm house north of Waverly.

The corncrib fire was believed by neighbors to have sparked in the high winds the vacant house about a quarter-mile away, according to Deputy Sheriff Robert Anderson.

He said empty pop bottles were found near the crib close to the road indicating persons may have been in the area just before the fire. The road is well-known as a lover's lane, he added.

A couple who were stranded over night in a car which ditched one mile from the scene are to be questioned, the deputy said.

But from appearances, the deputy theorized the fire was accidentally caused by a thrown cigarette butt although lightning from Monday night's electrical storm was a possible cause.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp said there apparently was no tie-up between the Monday night fires and two Saturday night which burned a small stack of baled straw and a vacant farm house in a more widely separated area.

Youths Released To Juvenile Court

Two Lincoln youths, ages 16 and 17, have been turned over to Lancaster Juvenile Court authorities in connection with the theft of a 22-caliber rifle.

Police said the rifle, later found at the home of the 16-year-old, belonged to Earl King of 1518 So. 3rd and was taken from his garage Monday.

The 16-year-old boy is also involved in a previous case at Al's Service Station at 602 West A, where some 22-caliber shells were taken, and a game violation involving the shooting of a duck, according to authorities.

Restitution for the window broken in gaining entry to the station has been made to the owner, they said.

Both youths had appeared previously in the Juvenile Probation office in connection with the theft of some shotgun shells.

New Mrs. Lincoln A State Finalist

Lincoln Star Special

YORK — Mrs. Lincoln won over five contestants in the regional Mrs. America contest at York Wednesday, and will represent the area in the state contest to be held at Beatrice April 13.

Lincoln's contestant was Mrs. DeLores Schmadeke, 33, of 3451 M. She is the mother of two children, Patty, 13, and Thane, 10.

Her husband, Lloyd, is a vocational agriculture instructor in the Lincoln public schools.

Last year's Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Carl Deitemeyer, went on to win the title of Mrs. America.

Suspects Queried In Service Station Theft

The Lancaster County Sheriff's office questioned several suspects in connection with the theft of more than $60 from Abbe Miller's service station at 320 West A.

A station attendant told deputy sheriffs that the money apparently was taken sometime between 9:30 and 11 p.m. Tuesday when he closed the station.

The money was discovered missing from a cash drawer when the attendant started to lock up Tuesday night.

On The Side Of Caution

Tuesday's elections which sent the citizens of Nebraska's municipalities to the polls—in greater number this year, than two years ago—followed customary lines.

Such elections are the time for community housekeeping, the naming of municipal officials, the deciding of whether or not to make new investments in community improvements.

They do not lend themselves to analysis for national political trends. But as they treat with local problems they indicate the temper of thinking which lead to national outlooks.

There was evidence in Tuesday's decisions that Nebraskans are cognizant of the agricultural price cost squeeze and its effect on the state's general economy. There was a growing conservatism in making investments, an awareness of increasing taxes and a tendency to curb added long range debt. Most outstanding example was Fremont's rejection of a $1,650,000 school bond issue.

A new $25,000 ball park for North Platte was turned down. Issues in the order of $20,000 were approved at several places for fire halls. But there were conservation measures. At two places, Bayard and Stromsburg voters turned to municipal venture in gas service hopeful of shoring up community revenues from sources other than taxes.

Straws in the wind, perhaps, but such examples of conserving indicate that Nebraska will play it safe until there is convincing evidence of more favorable economic days ahead.

Praise For Nebraska Labor

C. V. Fice, chief of the Division of Nebraska Resources, paid a deserved compliment to Nebraska's work force.

He spoke of the matchless efficiency of the average Nebraskan who turns his head and hand to industrial production. In an address to the Nebraska Telephone Association, Fice rated the state labor quality at the top of his list of such Nebraska incentives to industry as unlimited water and low cost electricity and gas.

In a description of character Fice did not say a new thing. Middle West youth, Nebraska youth, have long been pointed to by military men as outstanding in their rapid learning, their reliability, their steady courage and sound judgment in that field. And it has become legendary that business and industry elsewhere have siphoned thousands of middle westerners to become the head and balance wheels of great institutions. Price only said that many more such remain here at home, instead of sitting in quantity to wait for the next big business and industry rather than to export brains of individuals.

Price could have added too that the character of Nebraska's basic economy—agriculture—is seasonal, giving the state's worker pool an expansiveness that fits excellently into the production schedules of most industry. It is a phenomenon that dovetails together the best interests of industry and agriculture to the greatest satisfaction of the state's able workman. That in itself is an incentive for all who take the usual considerations of work force.

By Way Of Encore

That was an amazing column by Mr. Marquis Childs in Tuesday morning's Lincoln Star. Mr. Childs is a most painstaking, careful, accurate reporter. In all these years that he has been writing either as a columnist out of the national capital, or for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and other newspapers, we have never known Mr. Childs to sacrifice truth and accuracy for sen-

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

If a tall, lanky Tennessean walked with his head in the clouds briefly Tuesday night, there was a reason. He had challenged the champion, President Eisenhower, and with the returns in and complete for the first 600 precincts in the Wisconsin primary, he was leading—by a narrow and possibly meaningless margin, to be sure—but leading. Those returns came from northern Wisconsin districts where fringe farmers engaged in dairying had suffered severely from acute Bensonitis for more than two years.

Then the voice of the city was heard—the villages, the small towns and the metropolitan centers. Ike took over at that point and never was headed again, although at no time was the President's vote too impressive in this two-way popularity test thrust upon him by Sen. Estes Kefauver. And by comparison, the news columns reported Democratic strength was surprising. Whereas the Democrats rarely had polled more than 35 per cent of the aggregate vote in a state where a deeply-rooted, glorified LaFollette tradition had picked the bones of the Democratic party for years, a dazzling white in the bright sunlight, the Democratic vote with the count nearly complete was 42 per cent of the total. President Eisenhower got 55 per cent, against a fat luscious 70 per cent plus in the Republican primary four years ago. With 3,196 precincts out of 3,321 reported after Tuesday's voting, Eisenhower had 417,954 votes against 315,602 votes for Sen. Kefauver, a margin of 102,352 for the President. In the general election in 1952 the President polled 979,744 votes against Adlai Stevenson's 622,175; the Eisenhower majority, 357,569.

Here was one where both sides could pound themselves on the back and shout: "Boy, oh, boy, ain't this wonderful!" Ike's Wisconsin advocates could say to their idol that he had been vindicated handsomely in proof that Wisconsin farmers were not mad at him. Sen. Kefauver's loyal supporters could shout that they had walked off with the major victory and Wisconsin in the bag for the nominee of the Democratic national convention next August, said nominee being Sen. Kefauver. And if Stevenson followers did not have a certain saucy glint in their eyes and a smile, faint perhaps but nevertheless a smile, on their faces, then the well known brand of Stevenson humor was missing for once.

The news columns reported that the Republicans were saying that the primary vote did not mean a thing. The same news columns had Democrats looking on it as a symbol of certain victory next fall. The reader can take his pick. There is no reason why any editor should get in the line of fire as a result of this one. We assume Sen. Kefauver consulted with his Wisconsin advisors before tossing his hat at the President's feet 24 hours before the voters went to the poll in a demand for a popularity showdown. It was poor strategy regardless of who thought it up. Kefauver had nothing to gain except the possible conclusion he had let his victory in Minnesota go to his head. But he did surely know this could happen. His defy to Eisenhower was an open invitation for every Stevenson follower to stay home out of the rain and out of the path of tornadoes. His challenge to the President could have suggested to all the friends of Wisconsin's United States Sen. Wiley that they had better get on the telephone and call up a few people, urging them to get themselves to the polls. And if all the Republicans under Gov. Kohler of Wisconsin did not adopt the same technique of getting the vote out to the polls, then they're not as smart as we thought they were. Add to that the regiment of federal employees in Wisconsin, and a pro-Eisenhower vote in the towns and the cities not only becomes reasonably clear but entirely logical.

Sen. Kefauver stabbed his big toe on this one. President Eisenhower did not stab his big toe—neither did he break a leg in breaking out in a dog fight in contesting the lanky Tennessean. Why not let it stand with the conclusion that a good time was had by all?

There are times when, outwardly, the President is too naive to be real. What in heaven's name does Mr. Eisenhower expect of the Washington scene if he has given the gas interests a promise to pass their bill without delay following the presidential election of 1956. The lobby may not be there operating as brazenly and as openly as it did earlier this year but there will be a lobby leaving nothing undone to get legislation approved.

We doubt that the people of America's towns and cities believe the natural gas industry should be relieved of federal regulation. In the long run, we doubt that the gas industry itself would find that to its best interests. It seems to overlook the fact that when an industry gets too big to recognize the role which regulation fills, then it is flurting with the possibility of a demand government take it over, lock, stock and barrel.

Real Gadabouts

The next time you see your favorite bird sitting quietly on the nest or making a home of the front yard, don't be misled. He is not much of a home body. She is a world champion gadabout.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service says birds travel around 25,000 miles a year and are strictly international in their point of view.

The service started banding birds 50 years ago and by now it has built up a reliable record on their habits. Contrary to the generally held idea that birds are not long-lived, the service relocated them as much as 26 years after banding. And as for travel, a pin tail duck banded in North Dakota was shot in Colombia, South America. Another banded in California was located three months later at Penrhyn Island 4,500 miles away. Another California duck was shot near Dartmouth, England. An Arctic tern banded in Maine in 1913 was found dead in Nigeria, South Africa, in 1917. It all adds up to the fact that birds really get around.

Incidentally the service has banded 7 million birds representing 600 species the past 50 years.

One Way Out

Senator Richard Neuberger of Oregon has tossed a proposal into the deliberations over the Johnson-Knowland clean elections bill which is worth more than passing notice.

It would make the government, not the candidate, responsible for full reporting of campaign contributions and expenditures, a thing more or less described as placing control in the hands of a non-partisan agency in a way it would either require transactions to clear through it or become a part of the record. An impartial, impersonal mind, using the yardstick of the law, could rule on matters of campaign propriety.

On The Side Of Caution

Tuesday's elections which sent the citizens of Nebraska's municipalities to the polls—in greater number this year, than two years ago—followed customary lines.

Such elections are the time for community housekeeping, the naming of municipal officials, the deciding of whether or not to make new investments in community improvements.

They do not lend themselves to analysis for national political trends. But as they treat with local problems they indicate the temper of thinking which lead to national outlooks.

There was evidence in Tuesday's decisions that Nebraskans are cognizant of the agricultural price cost squeeze and its effect on the state's general economy. There was a growing conservatism in making investments, an awareness of increasing taxes and a tendency to curb added long range debt. Most outstanding example was Fremont's rejection of a $1,650,000 school bond issue.

A new $35,000 ball park for North Platte was turned down. Issues in the order of $20,000 were approved at several places for fire halls. But there were conservation measures. At two places, Bayard and Stromsburg voters turned to municipal venture in gas service hopeful of shoring up community revenues from sources other than taxes.

Straws in the wind, perhaps, but such examples of conserving indicate that Nebraska will play it safe until there is convincing evidence of more favorable economic days ahead.

Praise For Nebraska Labor

C. V. Price, chief of the Division of Nebraska Resources, paid a deserved compliment to Nebraska's work force.

He spoke of the matchless efficiency of the average Nebraskan who turns his head and hand to industrial production. In an address to the Nebraska Telephone Association, Price rated the state labor quality at the top of his list of such Nebraska incentives to industry as unlimited water and low cost electricity and gas.

In a description of character Price did not say a new thing. Middle West youth, Nebraska youth, have long been pointed to by military men as outstanding in their rapid learning, their reliability, their steady courage and sound judgment in that field. And it has become legendary that business and industry elsewhere have siphoned thousands of middlewesterners to become the head and balance wheels of great institutions. Price only said that many more such remain here at the fountainhead — sufficient in quantity to warrant the import of business and industry rather than to export drafts of individuals.

Price could have added too that the character of Nebraska's basic economy — agriculture — is seasonal, giving the state's worker pool an expansiveness that fits excellently into the production schedules of most industry. It is a phenomenon that dovetails together the best interests of industry and agriculture to the greatest satisfaction of the steady, able workman. That in itself is an incentive for all, quite above the usual considerations of work force.

By Way Of Encore

That was an amazing column by Mr. Marquis Childs in Tuesday morning's Lincoln Star. Mr. Childs is a most painstaking, careful, accurate reporter. In all these years that he has been writing either as a columnist out of the national capitol, or for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and other newspapers, we have never known Mr. Childs to sacrifice truth and accuracy for sensation. He is a man to whom the reader may tie in complete confidence and full faith.

He reported that the word was going around in Washington that President Eisenhower had promised the big wheels in the natural gas industry that he would put through legislation relieving them of federal regulation. It is difficult to believe that the President would do this, notwithstanding that in vetoing the bitterly controversial natural gas legislation of the current Congress he gave gas producers no end of comfort in defending the plan to take natural gas out from under federal regulation while harshly criticizing the lobby methods which were imposed.

There are times when, outwardly, the President is too naive to be real. What in heaven's name does Mr. Eisenhower expect of the Washington scene if he has given the gas interests a promise to pass their bill without delay following the presidential election of 1956. The lobby may not be there operating as brazenly and as openly as it did earlier this year but there will be a lobby leaving nothing undone to get legislation approved.

We doubt that the people of America's towns and cities believe the natural gas industry should be relieved of federal regulation. In the long run, we doubt that the gas industry itself would find that to its best interests. It seems to overlook the fact that when an industry gets too big to recognize the role which regulation fills, then it is flirting with the possibility of a demand government take it over, lock, stock and barrel.

Real Gadabouts

The next time you see your favorite bird sitting quietly on the nest or making a home of the front yard, don't be misled. She is not much of a home body. She is a world champion gadabout.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service says birds travel around 25,000 miles a year and are strictly international in their point of view. The service started banding birds 50 years ago and by now it has built up a reliable record on their habits. Contrary to the generally held idea that birds are not long-lived, the service relocated them as much as 26 years after banding. And as for travel, a pin tail duck banded in North Dakota was shot in Colombia, South America. Another banded in California was located three months later at Penrhyn Island 4,500 miles away. Another California duck was shot near Dartmouth, England. An Arctic tern banded in Maine in 1913 was found dead in Nigeria, South Africa, in 1917. It all adds up to the fact that birds really get around.

Incidentally the service has banded 7 million birds representing 600 species the past 50 years.

One Way Out

Senator Richard Neuberger of Oregon has tossed a proposal into the deliberations over the Johnson-Knowland clean elections bill which is worth more than passing notice.

It would make the government, not the candidate, responsible for full reporting of campaign contributions and expenditures, a thing more or less described as placing control in the hands of a non-partisan agency in a way it would either require transactions to clear through it or become a part of the record. An impartial, impersonal mind, using the yardstick of the lad, could rule on matters of campaign propriety.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

If a tall, lanky Tennessean walked with his head in the clouds briefly Tuesday night, there was a reason. He had challenged the champion, President Eisenhower, and with the returns in and complete for the first 600 precincts in the Wisconsin primary, he was leading—by a narrow and possibly meaningless margin, to be sure—but leading. Those returns came from northern Wisconsin districts where fringe farmers engaged in dairying had suffered severely from acute Bensonitis for more than two years.

Then the voice of the city was heard—the villages, the small towns and the metropolitan centers. Ike took over at that point and never was headed again, although at no time was the President's vote too impressive in this two-way popularity test thrust upon him by Sen. Estes Kefauver. And by comparison, the news columns reported Democratic strength was surprising. Whereas the Democrats rarely had polled more than 35 per cent of the aggregate vote in a state where a deeply-rooted, glorified LaFollette tradition had picked the bones of the Democratic party for years, a dazzling white in the bright sunlight, the Democratic vote with the count nearly complete was 42 per cent of the total. President Eisenhower got 55 per cent, against a fat luscious 70 per cent plus in the Republican primary four years ago. With 3,196 precincts out of 3,321 reported after Tuesday's voting, Eisenhower had 417,954 votes against 315,602 votes for Sen. Kefauver, a margin of 102,352 for the President. In the general election in 1952 the President polled 979,744 votes against Adlai Stevenson's 622,175; the Eisenhower majority, 357,569.

Here was one where both sides could pound themselves on the back and shout: "Boy, oh, boy, ain't this wonderful!" Ike's Wisconsin advocates could say to their idol that he had been vindicated handsomely in proof that Wisconsin farmers were not mad at him. Sen. Kefauver's loyal supporters could shout that they had walked off with the major victory and Wisconsin was in the bag for the nominee of the Democratic national convention next August, said nominee being Sen. Kefauver. And if Stevenson followers did not have a certain saucy glint in their eyes and a smile, faint perhaps but nevertheless a smile, on their faces, then the well known brand of Stevenson humor was missing for once.

The news columns reported that the Republicans were saying that the primary vote did not mean a thing. The same news columns had Democrats looking on it as a symbol of certain victory next fall. The reader can take his pick. There is no reason why any editor should get in the line of fire as a result of this one. We assume Sen. Kefauver consulted with his Wisconsin advisors before tossing his hat at the President's feet 24 hours before the voters went to the poll in a demand for a popularity showdown. It was poor strategy regardless of who thought it up. Kefauver had nothing to gain except the possible conclusion he had let his victory in Minnesota go to his head. But he did surely know this could happen. His defy to Eisenhower was an open invitation for every Stevenson follower to stay home out of the rain and out of the path of tornadoes. His challenge to the President could have suggested to all the friends of Wisconsin's United States Sen. Wiley that they had better get on the telephone and call up a few people, urging them to get themselves to the polls. And if all the Republicans under Gov. Kohler of Wisconsin did not adopt the same technique of getting the vote out to the polls, then they're not as smart as we thought they were. Add to that the regiment of federal employees in Wisconsin, and a pro-Eisenhower vote in the towns and the cities not only becomes reasonably clear but entirely logical.

Sen. Kefauver stubbed his big toe on this one, President Eisenhower did not stub his big toe—neither did he break a leg in breaking out in a dog trot in outdistancing the lengthy Tennessean. Why not let it stand with the conclusion that a good time was had by all?

Demo Mayors Plan Estes Road Block

WASHINGTON — Some of the big Democratic bosses backing Adlai Stevenson got together in Pittsburgh shortly after Adlai's defeat in Minnesota to try to figure out what they should do.

The meeting was held at the invitation of Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, one of the staunchest Stevenson backers. Col. Jake Arvey of Chicago was invited. Also Carmine De Sapio, head of Tammany Hall, though neither could make it.

However, Jim Finnegan, former leader of the Democrats in Philadelphia, together with other Stevenson leaders, attended.

Its net result was a decision to back Stevenson to the bitter end and knock Kefauver off at any cost. The leaders were confident they could deal Kefauver out of the nomination at the convention, no matter how many primaries he wins. Their attitude was one of let the public go hang. They talked of controlling the convention through Speaker Sam Rayburn, apparently counting on Rayburn's well-known bitterness against Kefauver.

As for Stevenson's chances in November, the bosses told each other that almost any Democrat can win as long as Nixon stays on the GOP ticket.

Milton Bellis, New York—It is true that I had something to do with getting a job for John Maragon in the folding room of the House of Representatives. It is also true that I had something to do with sending him to jail. The facts in my columns on Maragon's high-handed manner is using Gen. Harry Vaughan to throw his weight around Washington still stand.

However, when a man has served his punishment, I see no reason why he should be persecuted. So, when I learned that officials on Capitol Hill were afraid of hiring Maragon because of criticism icism from me, I told them I hoped they would give him a job. He's been out of work a long time. I understand he's working hard now, and I hope he makes good.

Alf M. Landon, Topeka, Kan.—I appreciate your writing me that you are not Governor Hall's adviser and that he stands on his own feet. However, that isn't exactly what the governor told me. He paid great tribute to you as his friend and counselor.

J. Edgar Hoover, Washington—Thanks for your note making it clear that it was Assistant Attorney General Warren Olney, not you, who delayed from December 30 to March 14 in answering Congresswoman Edith Green of Oregon's charges that the FBI reviewed Mrs. Green's information promptly and referred it to the criminal division of justice department on January 12, where it waited for a reply until March 14.

Earl Griffith, MacClenny, Fla.—At no time have I published a statement that Senator Smathers owned natural gas stock. It was reported in Washington that one of the two Florida senators owned such stock, but Mr. Smathers informs me that neither he nor his wife owns stock, and I accept his word. It is correct, of course, that Senator Smathers voted for the gas bill, now vetoed.

George Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury—Thanks for your letter, sent me at the request of Vice President Nixon, that he did not visit the President at Thomasville, Ga. Though my original information regarding the geographic location of their talk came from a member of the White House staff, I am sure you, the host at Thomasville, are in the best position of all to know the truth, and I am delighted to set this fact straight. Americans Are Pencil Ridden

NEW YORK — It's as plain as 20 minutes past four in the clock ads that the pen is mightier than the sword. But what about the pencil? Don't think it's chicken! Residents of New York state used 146,728,423 of them during 1955. If you live in the state you used 9.1 pencils, and the I was a stub chewed by a child—if you live in our particular hutch.

If you used up the whole lot you could have written 66,400,000 average-size novels, according to Clyde T. Nissen, executive vice president of the Lead Pencil Manufacturers Association. This must rate with the more frightening statistics of our age. He doesn't say how good they might have been. But cheer up, in case you did write 66,400,000 novels and they weren't all clicks.

After all, Hemingway had his "Across the River and Into the Trees." People who purchased it believing it was a golf book are still indignantly returning it.

To most of us a pencil is a pencil. Mr. Nissen says there are 350 varieties, including stone masons' pencils for marking granite, knurled jobs for butchers with greasy fingers, and one which surgeons use to diagram the skin area about to be entered via scalpel.

As Calvin Coolidge might have fearlessly said, "That's a lot of pencils, it is said."

Congratulations to Western Union on its 100th birthday. It is a monopoly with sentiment. Among the treasures preserved from the original Western Union office in Rochester, N. Y., is an iron cuspidor shaped like a plug hat. It took Sam Morse one minute to click out, in Morse code, "What hath God wrought!" — the first message. As an anniversary stunt, a WU facsimile machine sent 500 words a minute from the same page of the Bible Morse used, an acceleration 125 times as great.

As one who has sent some appalling number of words over Western Union wires, none as perceptive as Morse's choice, it is somehow comforting to know that the Machine has not completely subdued the Human in that company. The seventh paragraph of self-congratulatory Western Union's telegraphic announcement of its centenary begins:

"The dominating idea of Western Union's founders was to unite the numerous small, local telegraph companies which had widely varied: 8, & 4-53' -5 $ 0994 '34;8:3. . ."

At the bottom of the long message a gray Western Union man on my end of the line typed in a correction: 7th graf—varying rates and poor service.

Kefauver Stresses "New South" Policy

WASHINGTON — Senator Estes Kefauver has cast his lot with "The New South."

The Tennessean's challenge to his native region to adopt a liberal attitude toward the anti-segregation policy of the Supreme Court is both farsighted and shrewd. He has little to lose, since southern conservatives oppose him anyway, and he has immeasurably strengthened himself in the North and among the pivotal states.

He has taken the play away from Adlai Stevenson, who takes the same view of the court's decision but has attempted to act the part of conciliator. Kefauver achieved drama because he is himself a Southerner, because he made his "New South" appeal at his takeoff in the Florida primary and because he took the offensive in plain language.

One admirer said here: "He has talked sense to the South," a paraphrase of Stevenson's own "Talk Sense to the American People" which electrified the 1952 Democratic convention.

The strictly Southern angle of the story is that Kefauver's hopes for votes there now rest with people favorably affected by industrialization of the South and the diversification of its agriculture, with business and labor and the increasing number of voting Negroes in Southern cities.

These people have been shaken in their stability and prospects for a more abundant life by the violence of the pro-segregation campaign. They have been slow to raise their voices and no national figure of stature has come along — until Kefauver — to rally them.

But what has been happening to them is no secret. Business has tried to minimize its troubles, but the financial papers have told the story of boycotts by both sides against small firms and such large ones as Ford, Falstaff beer and Phillip Morris Cigarettes.

It has been reported, too, and not denied, that manufacturers who had intended Southern expansion have hesitated, lest they be caught both North and South in the middle of the segregation battle. The result is described as a decline in tax revenues in some Southern states. This has given even conservative politicians pause.

It may be that Kefauver's southern gamble will not pay off. He has certainly done a favor to business — which has done him few favors — in pleading for a stable, nationally-minded South.

Kefauver's outspokenness has narrowed the ground for compromise within the party with Southern conservatives. Many Democrats already were saying that it was time for the party to choose. Now all candidates will be forced to declare a position making them more or less — mostly more — unpalatable to the Southern right.

FARM LEADERS

Favor Farm Bill Passage

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate-House conference committee is doing a difficult job in a very creditable manner. I have been gratified with the tentative decisions the conferees have adopted the better parts of the different bills passed by the House and the Senate. In each instance, where they could, they have acted to raise farm family income in 1956.

The dual parity provision alone will raise by 15 per cent above existing law the family net income of wheat, peanut, and corn producers, and that of cotton producers by 3 per cent. This would mean nearly $500 million added to farm income in 1956, and an additional $1 billion income in 1957.

Approval by the conferees of 90 per cent supports could add a total of $2 billion to the incomes of wheat, peanut, cotton, and corn producers. Acceptance of the 90 per cent provision not only will improve prices, it will also raise the value to farmers of the soil bank.

The soil bank acreage reserve will, of course, do nothing to raise farm income. However, acceptance of Senate improvements to the administration's conservation reserve means that it can, with effective administration, and approximately $1 billion, instead of nothing, to net farm income on an annual basis.

The improved supports for dairy products tentatively adopted could mean approximately $270 million additional income to milk producers. I have full confidence that the conferees will work out adequate mandatory supports for grain sorghum, oats, rye, and barley related to their feed value ratio to the improved support level for corn.

The total bill now tentatively approved by the conference committee would add well over $3.5 billion to farm income above that provided by existing law.

I doubt that President Eisenhower will decide to veto a bill that would mean so much to farm people if it became law and were effectively administered.

I am disappointed that the bills did not provide for protection of farm family income at nearer the parity level.

Under existing law, farm people would be able to earn only about 40 per cent of income parity in 1956. The conference provisions, if enacted and properly administered, would enable farmers to earn approximately 48 to 50 per cent of parity income.

However, within the limits of the two bills before them, the conferees have done an exceptionally good job of putting together the stronger provisions of each.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Nehru Visit Of Prime Importance

WASHINGTON — While the announcement received comparatively little notice, the visit to Washington next July of India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru can have far-reaching consequences for American policy in Asia.

Nehru had a great deal to do with initiating the ambassadorial talks between Communist China and the United States.

These talks, between American Ambassador Alexis Johnson and Red China's ambassador Wang Ping Nan in Switzerland, have come close to stalemate. The Peking propaganda radio has been sputtering threats to break them off, with the implication that military action against Formosa might follow, unless the United States showed greater willingness to negotiate the points Red China considers vital.

But the announcement that Nehru is to meet with President Eisenhower will, in the belief of observers here, cause Red China's foreign minister, Chou En-Lai, to suspend any drastic action.

Intelligence reports from the China mainland opposite Formosa fail to show signs of preparation for action against the island stronghold of Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalists. At least twice in recent years reports of invasion barges being massed in that area have touched off an alarm of imminent danger.

Nehru and Chou En-Lai maintain close personal contact. They are in frequent direct communication on many aspects of policy in Asia.

Shortly after President Eisenhower's heart attack, Chou sent a long message to Nehru expressing his concern that the President apparently had been eliminated from the world scene. Chou said that he had come to believe after the summit conference at Geneva that Eisenhower was a "man of peace" and it was doubtful whether those taking over from him would pursue the same policy of peace.

Nehru likewise has been deeply impressed by Eisenhower's words at the Geneva meeting. Immediately following the summit conference, the President and the prime minister exchanged a series of letters with Eisenhower urging Nehru to visit Washington, with Nehru seeking to persuade the American President that he would get a warm welcome from the Indian people if he visited their country.

When Secretary of State Dulles stopped at New Delhi on his recent tour of Southeast Asia he personally renewed, in behalf of the President, the invitation to come to America.

Nehru agreed, and this must be recorded as one of the beneficial results of the Dulles tour which has come in for considerable criticism. On the whole, Nehru and Dulles got on well, despite their widely divergent views in recent years.

Signs of improvement in the Indian-U.S. relationship are evident.

Have the Senate and House conferees molded a farm bill that is in the best interests of farmers?

Will President Eisenhower veto a bill which calls for restoration of rigid 90 per cent of parity price supports?

International News Service sought the answers to these and other questions from the heads of two of the nation's major farm organizations—James G. Patton, president of the Farmers Union, and Herschel D. Newsom, master of the National Grange.

Here are their views on the compromise farm bill which is about to be reported back to both houses of Congress by the conferees.

WASHINGTON (INS)—The agricultural act of 1956, as it is now shaping up in the conference committee of the House and the Senate, will have the support of the National Grange. This organization will not only push for its passage in both houses of the Congress but will strongly urge the President to sign the measure.

In our opinion, this is not a perfect bill, but it's a good bill. It's definitely not a bad bill. In the evolutionary process of developing agricultural legislation this bill points to some new directions and involves reasonable progress toward eventual solution of the farm problem.

The decline in 1955 farm income in most areas and in many commodities is far more serious than opponents to the bill realize. This decline clearly dictates the necessity of appropriate emergency action.

The bill, as it is now taking shape, embraces such emergency action. Without such action, the downward trend of rural purchasing power will continue. This trend would not only be ruinous to farmers but, if allowed to continue, could well put our total economy downward.

Obviously the bill will not solve the farm problem, but it will bolster agricultural income by approximately a billion and a quarter dollars annually for the next two years.

The soil bank plan on a temporary basis is worth a trial run as a production control device. We doubt the advisability of trying to use it for this for more than two or three years because we doubt whether it'll work as a production control instrument on a permanent basis.

Yet we are in an emergency. We must attempt to raise farm income through every fair and effective way that can be devised. One means of doing this is to attempt to control total crop output. The soil bank plan and the other features of the bill make up as good a set of plans as can now be achieved under present circumstances.

In my opinion, furthermore, the opponents of the bill have allowed a narrow and bitter argument to warp their viewpoints of the total. They have allowed the argument over the level of price supports to develop into political battles.

Many who oppose the bill have called it "unworkable," "a catch-all," and "a hodge-podge" measure. These are unwarranted and tricky charges.

It is my opinion, moreover, that the inclusion of special programs in the act designed specifically for rice and wheat represent the most important recognition in 25 years of the fundamental fact that direct governmental price supports in themselves will not constructively serve rural welfare.

Governor's Mansion To Be Razed In 2 Months

... Spurs Parking Plan

Martin Lewin, State Capitol custodian, said Wednesday razing of the executive mansion across the street from the Statehouse will start in two months.

Realization that a limited amount of parking space next to the mansion will be lost when work begins helped spark formation of the Statehouse Employees Parking Assn., a non-stock organization which will seek to provide other space elsewhere, Lewin said.

The association proposes to lease state-owned property at 1325 H and privately-owned property at 1335 H and convert the three lots into parking space. The lots would be marked off into 47 stalls which would rent for $4 a month.

Houses at 1325 and 1335 H would have to be razed. One is now vacant, Lewin said razing of the two houses and the mansion might be combined into one project.

Architects are now at work on plans for a new executive mansion. Funds for the project were set aside by the 1955 Legislature.

Gov. Victor Anderson and his family never moved into the mansion because of plans to replace it. They have continued to live in their northeast Lincoln home.

Twelve men signed incorporation papers for the parking association. The business will be handled by a board of directors consisting of five members: Fred Herrington, State Tax Commissioner; Hugo Srb, Clerk of the Legislature; George Turner, Clerk of the Supreme Court; Charles Moon, State Athletics Commissioner; and Lewin.

The large parking area on state-owned ground across the street east of the capitol is already overcrowded.

... Spurs Parking Plan

Martin Lewin, State Capitol custodian, said Wednesday razing of the executive mansion across the street from the Statehouse will start in two months.

Realization that a limited amount of parking space next to the mansion will be lost when work begins helped spark formation of the Statehouse Employees Parking Assn., a non-stock organization which will seek to provide other space elsewhere, Lewin said.

The association proposes to lease state-owned property at 1525 H and privately-owned property at 1535 H and convert the three lots into parking space. The lots would be marked off into 47 stalls which would rent for $4 a month.

Houses at 1525 and 1535 H would have to be razed. One is now vacant. Lewin said razing of the two houses and the mansion might be combined into one project.

Architects are now at work on plans for a new executive mansion. Funds for the project were set aside by the 1955 Legislature.

Gov. Victor Anderson and his family never moved into the mansion because of plans to replace it. They have continued to live in their northeast Lincoln home.

Twelve men signed incorporation papers for the parking association. The business will be handled by a board of directors consisting of five members: Fred Herrington, State Tax Commissioner; Hugo Srb, Clerk of the Legislature; George Turner, Clerk of the Supreme Court; Charles Moon, State Athletics Commissioner; and Lewin.

WILBERT

Vic Inspects Milford

Gov. Anderson and a staff of advisers inspected the state trade school at Milford. They reported they were "much impressed" by improvements at the school, where plans for a long-range building program are under way.

WINNERS OF FELLOWSHIPS AT UNIVERSITY ANNOUNCED

... Regents, Johnson Awards

Winners of the $1,500 Regents fellowships and the $1,000 Franklin
E. and Orinda M. Johnson fellowships for the 1956-57 school year at the University of Nebraska were announced Wednesday by Dean
R. W. Goss of the graduate college.

Don R. Gerlach of Harvard and Konrad Supronowicz of Lincoln won the regents fellowships.

Johnson fellowships went to Melvin D. Rumbaugh of Pella, Ia.;
Glenna Berry of Onawa, Ia.; Mrs.
Bernice L. Scheer of Lawrence,
Kan., and Clarence J. Attig of York.

Gerlach, 23, received his Bachelor of Science in Education degree with distinction from the University in 1954 and is working now toward a Master's degree.

Former DP

Supronowicz, 36, is a former displaced person who came to Lincoln in 1950. He served in the Polish infantry during the war years. He holds Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Nebraska and plans to seek a Doctor of Philosophy degree with a major in mathematics.

Rumbaugh, 26, who is majoring in agronomy, was graduated from

Central College at Pella in 1951 and holds a Master's degree from Nebraska.

Miss Berry expects to receive her Bachelor's degree from Nebraska this June and then continue with her graduate studies, majoring in English and Spanish.

Mrs. Scheer will receive her Bachelor's degree from Kansas
University next August.

Attig, professor at York College from 1951 to 1955, is seeking a doctorate with a major in history at Nebraska.

STEELE CITY, Neb. — Milford
Wiloughby won positions on both the town board and school board.

He was elected for a one-year town board term and Dr. I. N.
Morgan was re-elected to a two-year term. Wiloughby was re-elected to a three-year term on the school board as were C. A. Darling and Ralph Payne. Herman Arnt was elected to a two-year school board term. The turnout was described as a little below other years.

'56 Oil Industry Leading '55 Records

Discoveries Stand At 12; Kimball Ahead

SIDNEY, Neb., (AP) — The Nebraska oil industry during the first quarter of 1956 outstripped records set during the comparable period in 1955.

According to records kept by the Sidney Telegraph, there were 12 discoveries, 70 field wells completed and 143 dry holes during the first three months of this year.

For the first quarter last year there were nine discoveries, 54 field wells and 88 dry holes.

Half of the new discoveries and more than half of the new field wells were in Kimball County.

Kimball County had six discoveries, 36 field wells and 60 dry holes.

Last year at this time the Kimball log showed six discoveries, 26 field wells and 35 dry holes.

Here are the comparative records for other counties:

Cheyenne — 1956 — One discovery, 14 field wells and 19 dry holes. 1955 — two discoveries, seven field wells and 31 dry holes.

Banner — 1956 — Three discoveries, 14 field wells and 28 dry holes. 1955 — Two discoveries, 21 field wells and 14 dry holes.

Morrill — 1956 — Two discoveries, six field wells and 18 dry holes. 1955 — One dry hole.

There has been 19 dry holes drilled in nine other western Nebraska counties since Jan. 1, 1956. Four of the dusters have been in Garden and three each in Box Butte and Scotts Bluff Counties.

Among the more significant developments in the Panhandle oil industry since the first of the year was Shell Oil's Travis No. 18 deep test in Kimball County.

A drill stem test in the deep sands had a recovery of 100 feet of oil — first such strike in the southern Panhandle's history — but an over-abundance of water forced abandonment of that level.

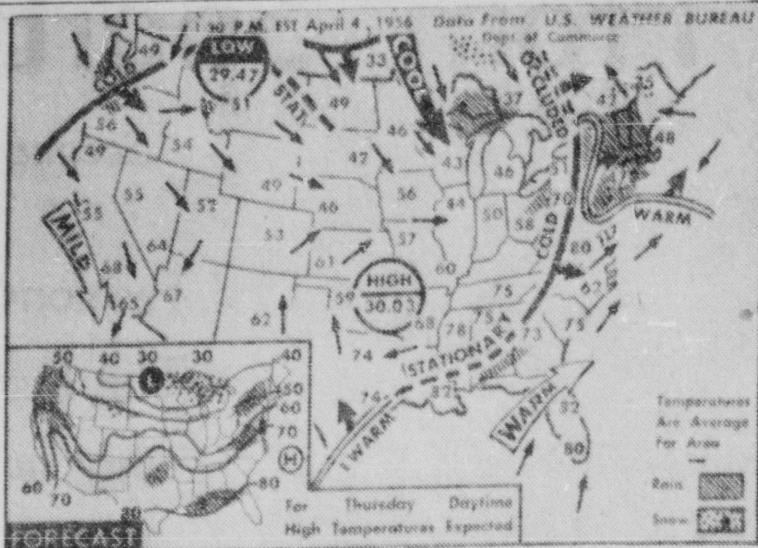

Discoveries of 1956 for the first three months include:

Kimball County — Roh Oil, Swisher No. 1; Love-Miller Drilling, Huska No. 1; Maxey Drilling, Everston No. 1; Gibraltar Oil, Lukassen No. 1; R. W. McDowell, Jr., State No. 1, and Murfin and Sutton, Baltensperger No. 1.

Morrill County — Ohio Oil Co., Lane No. 1, and British-American Oil, Craig D No. 1.

Banner County — Rite Way Oil, Schneider No. 2; Mircle-Fifer-Vedene No. 1, and Shell Oil, Horn No. 1.

Cheyenne County — Love-Miller, Thompson No. 1.

Scattered Areas Expect Showers

Showers are expected Thursday for eastern Lakes, northern Appalachians and north Pacific coast, with thunderstorms over the southern Plains states. Snow or flurries are forecast for the northern Lakes' area and Minnesota. Except for New England, northern half of the nation will be colder. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Orientation Planned For Families Entertaining Foreign Young Persons

Nebraska families which will be entertaining foreigners during the next few months under the International Farm Youth Exchange program will have an opportunity next week for some advance orientation.

Slate 4-H Leader W. M. Antes said a meeting will be held in Lincoln Monday and another in Ogallala Tuesday.

The Lincoln meeting will be for host families and county agents from Richardson, Colfax, Saunders, Valley, Howard, Nance, Thurston, Dixon and Dakota Counties.

The Ogallala meeting will bring in families and agents from Lincoln, Keith, Morrill, Scotts Bluff and Cheyenne Counties.

Services Friday For Mrs. Mart, York Resident

YORK, Neb. — Funeral services for Mrs. Charles Mart, 74, who died at a York hospital after a lingering illness, will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. from the Metz mortuary here, Rev. F. F. Gross officiating.

A resident of York County 50 years, Mrs. Mart lived the past 18 in retirement here with her husband after 32 years of farming near McCool.

She is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Fred Novak of Lincoln, and two sons, Allen J and Virgil D. Marti also of Lincoln. Other survivors include two brothers, Hubert Sanders, Pine Bluff, Wyo., and Ralph Sander, Corvallis, Ore., two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Rhoads, York, and Mrs. Helen Rhoads, Newberg, Ore., and three grandchildren.

Ball Park Issue Suffers Defeat

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP) — North Platte rejected a proposed $35,000 bond issue for construction of a ball park and passed an ordinance providing dogs be kept penned or tied, or on a leash, the year around.

In city council races the Non-partisan Taxpayers Assn. apparently captured the four seats at stake. The association had campaigned for lower taxes.

Apparently elected were Bill Owens, Second Ward; Andrew Larsen, Third Ward, and Robert Miller, incumbent, in the Fourth Ward. In the First Ward, with one precinct missing, the leader was Fred Luck.

Mrs. Hanna, Superior, First Woman Mayor In State

Mayor Bryan Is Unseated By 17 Votes

Lincoln Star Special
OMAHA — Women attending the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs convention Wednesday were simply congratulating one of their presidents on her election as the first woman mayor in Nebraska.

The whole thing sort of excited me, too," Mrs. Arabelle Hanna, the new mayor of Superior, said. She unseated Mayor Floyd L. Egan, who has served two terms, by a vote of 143 to 126.

No Special Campaign
Mrs. Hanna said there was no special campaign on which she ran and she did no special campaigning.

She is associated with her husband, Harry, in the real estate and insurance business. They have no children.

Run For State Posts
Mrs. Hanna is a successful candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor in 1934.

Two Incumbents Out
The Superior city council on Wednesday defeated incumbent Mayor George Ayres, 111 to 90, and W. H. Utsey defeated incumbent Mayor George Ayres, 111 to 90.

Lincoln Star Special
PLYMOUTH, Neb. — William Niemeyer, Orvel Gronemeyer and L. E. Christ were elected to the town board here. B. D. Soahr and Mrs. Irma Hessler were elected to the school board.

Tie Features Council Race

Lincoln Star Special
FAIRMONT, Neb. — Re-elected in his unopposed bid for mayor, Henry K. West polled 230 votes in a race that included 21 write-in votes for five men. A. L. Brown, incumbent, defeated M. T. Norr in the race for police magistrate.

In the election for the city council, there was a tie vote in the First Ward, with R. V. Condon, the incumbent, and William Jorgensen, who was a write-in candidate, both receiving 40 votes. Harry W. Bender also ran with 26 votes.

Write-In Fails To Upset Outcome

Lincoln Star Special
DEWITT, Neb. — The three candidates for the two-year village board term were elected at DeWitt despite a heavy write-in vote. Elmer L. Metcalf, Emil Burgmeier and George Kinghorn are the new trustees on the village board.

Incumbent Henry White was re-elected police magistrate over Walter Bralliar.

Mrs. Hanna, Superior, First Woman Mayor In State

Mayor Bryan Unseated By 17 Votes

Lincoln Star Special
OMAHA — Women attending the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs convention Wednesday were applying congratulating one of their state presidents on her election as the first woman mayor in Nebraska.

"The whole thing sort of excited me, too," Mrs. Arabelle Hanna, the new mayor of Superior, said. She unseated Mayor Floyd L. Bryan, who has served two terms, by a vote of 343 to 326.

No Special Campaign
Mrs. Hanna said there was no particular platform on which she ran and she did no special campaigning.

"I guess the voters just thought was time for a change," she said. Besides the mayor, two incumbent councilmen were unseated in the Superior election. A Superior resident for many years, Mrs. Hanna was born in Pennsylvania and came to Nebraska when she was 12.

She is associated with her husband, Harry, in the real estate and insurance business. They have no children.

Mrs. Hanna is serving her 10th term on the Superior park board and was a member of the cemetery board for many years.

Ran For State Posts

She ran unsuccessfully for the legislature in 1950 and was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor in 1954.

She has just completed six years as president of the State School Organization Committee. Besides being a past president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Hanna also was a past state president of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"But the accomplishment of which I am most proud," she said, "is being registered as a parliamentarian with the National Association of Parliamentarians."

Two Incumbents Out

In the Superior city council contest, Ed Tietjen defeated incumbent George Ayres, 111 to 86, and W. H. Upton defeated incumbent Stanley Sheets, 170 to 160. Lloyd Maxwell, another incumbent, was re-elected.

Donald Kronberg was elected to two-year term on the school board and Roland Wages and Iliff

POSTCARD

We seem to be in a season of emergencies. My 12 year-old cousin has put her knee through a glass door. A matter of nine liver bullets to the glazer for repairs.

Last week we put her knee through a window. Another $9, plus stitches and medicines that eat all the neighborhood eggs to howling. In sympathy, I propose.

"Couldn't you just stay away from everything made of glass?" I asked, gloomily. "Your antique aunt does not own a single share of Owens Illinois. More's the pity."

"It was an accident," she said. "Don't you understand? I just asked the window and it broke. You aren't sympathetic."

Well, I am sympathetic. Just glitzy worn out around the waist, that's all.

Just about the time I get the household budgeted, the wind blows the shingles off the roof. The dog develops an asthma that can only be cured by injections of gold and a diet of fresh water.

This dog has the appetite of a starving tiger. Yet I have never seen a more delicate animal. The only dog in the world who gets poison oak. The only dog I have ever seen who scratches with both hind feet at once.

The dog is on a budget of horse meat. Which at present prices is about the same as filet mignon. Just to stagger around the house, he requires gallons of this expensive fodder.

He tears into everything that is left over as though he expected food to go out of style.

Thereafter he lies whimpering on the best rug. Regarding me with brimming eyes and the wistful look of a child with a nose pressed against the candy window.

"I'm hungry," he says. "STARVING!"

Once I figured out the amount of horse meat this dog has eaten, I figured he has eaten ten full-grown horses during his lifetime!

With what this dog has eaten I could have bought Nashua.

Rushing a gory child to the doctor in the middle of the night is bad enough. It is the aftermath of patient suffering and smug bravado that is so annoying.

For days now I have had to listen to every detail. How she bled fiercely, meanwhile making sad and courageous last statements. Advising her father not to sorrow too greatly, but to regard the whole episode as an angel snatched from his bosom.

I have had a background of constant telephone conversations to other young ladies.

"Cut so bad they had to stick my hand back on!"

"Blood over EVERYTHING! It was terrible!"

"My father said he had NEVER seen anyone so brave! I hardly cried a bit."

So short is memory. I wouldn't call it crying. More like howling. Like a cow with colic. More like a roar, I would say.

As to father and what he has seen, I grow quite faint at the sight of blood. I don't know how we got the emergency bandage on. Neither of us could bear to look, and that's a fact.

I keep a first-aid package and a first aid book around the house. But when the emergency arises I can never find the right page. I am just as likely to give artificial respiration as anything else.

Only one thing I have learned to do until the doctor comes. Give them first aid and give them lemonade. There is nothing like lemonade for shock, no matter what the books say. I know. I drank a quart of it myself.

The Star In Suburbia

Here it is Thursday — and our morning to visit Country Club Manor where we found a variety of informal parties — coffees, bridge groups — courtesies for brides-elect — and that.

First we heard that Mrs. Gordon Lukart Jr., entertained the members of her bride foursome at her home on Wednesday evening — and we're guessing that four doting fathers were pressed into service as bachelors. In the bride group are Mrs. Louis DuTrem, Mrs. Carter Higgins, Mrs. Jack Lowe and — of course — Mrs. Lukart.

Wednesday afternoon found Mrs. James Wirth hosting at her home, too — Mrs. Wirth entertained eight unaffiliated PEO members at a coffee.

Out in Country Club Manor there are numerous neighborhood bridge groups — There is one which meets every other Thursday — and last Thursday was meeting day at the home of Mrs. Thomas Hatton. In addition to the hostess the bridge eightome includes Mrs. James Wirth, Mrs. Vern Walker, Mrs. Vernon Vogt, Mrs. Hugh Dunlap, Mrs. Henry Wilson, Mrs. Jack Frazer and Mrs. Sidney Spilseth.

Another bridge group—a foursome, is just beginning—it met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Eugene Brooks to form a permanent organization, and naturally, for an afternoon of bridge. At the moment the group is a foursome — It may grow as

AROUND TOWN

To Be Bride In June

THOSE few well chosen personal words we might like to offer this morning will have to go by the boards until another dawn — We have no time to linger along the conversational path this morning because we have too much news to tell—

IN the first place we have courtesies—some to say hello—others to say good bye—and both are interesting.

The farewell courtesies are for the Rev. and Mrs. David Gracey who leave Lincoln soon for Waterloo, Conn., where they and their family will reside.

Next Sunday afternoon, between the hours of 4 o'clock and 6 o'clock, the Rev. and Mrs. Gracey will be honored by the parish of the Church of Holy Trinity, Episcopal, of which the Rev. Gracey has served as rector, in the parlors of the church.

In the receiving line will be the members of the church vestry and their wives, including Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Andrews, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Spangle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flansburg, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bodie, Mr. and Mrs. Max Worley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Orla Haskins, Mr. and Mrs. James Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. James MacLean, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lauer Ward, Dr. and Mrs. Everett E. Angle and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seacrest.

Presiding at the refreshment table during the receiving hours will be the presidents of the church guilds.

The honored guests will be presented with a gift.

BUT the courtesies for Mrs. Gracey began Wednesday when the members of St. Mary's guild honored her at their regular meeting held at the home of Mrs. Merlon James.

AND this morning Mrs. Gracey will again be an honoree when Mrs. Clayton Scott is a coffee hostess at her home. The guest list will include the wives of Lincoln Air Force Base personnel who have been attending the Church of the Holy Trinity.

ON Friday Mrs. Gracey will be complimented by Mrs. Harry Aiken and Mrs. F. M. Stephens who will entertain a neighborhood group at coffee at the home of Mrs. Stephens. Mrs. Gracey will be presented with a gift.

HONORING Mrs. Gracey on Wednesday were the members of the Altar Guild who were immediate hostesses at the home of Mrs. Earl Cuyell.

THIS is a busy week for Mrs.

Herbert Newman of La Grange, Ill., who, with Mr. Newman came to spend a few days as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinsey and their son, Newman.

Mr. Newman, so we hear, will be leaving today to return to La Grange, but just about the time he takes off another Newman daughter, Miss Sharon Newman, will be arriving to join her mother at the home of her brother-in-law and sister.

This morning Mrs. Newman, Miss Newman and Mrs. Kinsey will be guests at a small and informal coffee for which Mrs. Glenn Baldwin will be hostess at her home. The foursome will be completed with Mrs. Baldwin's daughter, Mrs. Thomas Lawrie.

A Friday morning courtesy for Mrs. Newman will be the coffee for which Mrs. Roy Withers will be hostess at her home when she entertains a small group of guests—all close friends of Mrs. Newman.

Betrothal Announced

MISS MARILYN EATON

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Eaton of Fremont this morning are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn, to Alan Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Osborne of Fort Morgan, Colo.

The wedding will be an event of June 24, and will take place at Fremont.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Pi Beta Phi. Miss Eaton currently is a member of the faculty of the Denver Public Schools.

Mr. Osborne is a graduate of Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Colo., where he is a member of Blue Key, Tau Beta Pi and Who's Who in American Colleges, and is associated with an engineer with an oil firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Neher will make their home in Lincoln.

Marriage Solemnized

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Bonnie Ellen Walbridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Walbridge, to Edward Neher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Neher, on Saturday, March 24. The marriage was solemnized at the Methodist Church in Seward.

Mr. and Mrs. Neher will make their home in Lincoln.

A Guest From Canada

Spending the Easter vacation in Lincoln as the houseguest of her Cottey College classmate, Miss Teresa Stepanek, is Miss Barbara Berry of Calgary, Alberta, Canada (at right), who found the long spring holiday not quite long enough for a trip home.

Miss Berry, who is showing her hostess pictures of the Canadian Rockies, and Miss Stepanek will return to their classes at Nevada, Mo., the last of the week.

The Star In Suburbia

Here it is Thursday — and our morning to visit Country Club Manor where we found a variety of informal parties — coffees, bridge groups — courtesies for brides-elect — and this and that.

First we heard that Mrs. Gordon Luikart Jr., entertained the members of her bridge foursome at her home on Wednesday evening — and we're guessing that four doting fathers were pressed into service as baby-sitters. In the bridge group are Mrs. Louis DuTeau, Mrs. Carter Iddings, Mrs. Jack Lowe and — of course — Mrs. Luikart.

Wednesday afternoon found Mrs. James Wirth hosting at her home, too — Mrs. Wirth entertained eight unaffiliated PEO members at a coffee.

Out in Country Club Manor there are numerous neighborhood bridge groups — There is one which meets every other Thursday — and last Thursday was meeting day at the home of Mrs. Thomas Hutton. time goes on, but the charter members are Mrs. Richard Westermann, Mrs. Melvin Ogle, Mrs. Robert Bias — and Mrs. Brooks.

Continuing our trek through Country Club Manor we discovered that Mrs. James Maraist will compliment two newcomers to the neighborhood—Mrs. Robert Kidder and Mrs. Walter R. Bowes — when she entertains at a 10 o'clock coffee on Friday morning at her home. The neighborhood guest list will include Mrs. Ervin Vosta, Mrs. Edward Hirsch, Mrs. William Benker and Mrs. George Slewitzke.

Then we learned that Mrs. Jack Singer and Mrs. Walt Ducker also were to be Friday morning hostesses — They are entertaining at a coffee, at the home of Mrs. Ducker, in pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Kay Schmoker, whose marriage to DeLane Welsh will be an event of later April.

Next week's calendar around the Manor area includes some entertaining on Tuesday afternoon — Mrs. E. W. Vosta, we hear, will be hostess to the members of her bridge eightsome at her home.

Entertaining on Thursday evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Schwab and Mrs. Schwab's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Oppen, who will be hosts and hostesses at a progressive dinner in farewell courtesy to the Rev. and Mrs. Elton Garrison.

The guests have been invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oppen for the first course, after which Mr. and Mrs. Schwab will entertain the group at their home for the dessert.

The Rev. and Mrs. Garrison and their children have resided in Lincoln during the winter months while the Rev. Mr. Garrison was on leave from missionary work with the interdenominational group of Japanese Protestant Churches.

The Garrisons will leave Lincoln in the near future for the west coast from where they will sail May 1 for Osaka, Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Reinecke had houseguests for the Easter week-end when they entertained their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Recht of Omaha. Mrs. Recht will be remembered as the former Barbara Reinecke.

MISS PATRICIA JANE STAFFORD

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Patricia Jane Stafford to Ens. Donald Howard Lind, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Lind, is being announced this morning by the bride-elect's parents, Dr. and Mrs. George Ewing Stafford.

Miss Stafford is attending the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Pi Lambda Theta and Alpha Lambda Delta honoraries.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Ens. Lind, who is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, is stationed at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

Plan YW Open House

The Havelock YWCA Community Center will hold its annual open house at the center on Wednesday, April 18, and committee chairmen in charge of the event are completing plans.

Beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning, newcomers in the community will be especially honored at a "compass" coffee to be held at the center. Residents of the various areas in the community will be divided into informal, get-acquainted groups, and serving as co-chairmen for the coffee will be Mrs. John Hobbs and Mrs. William Hall.

A highlight of the afternoon will be a special program at 2 o'clock based on the history of the Havelock Center. Members of the Havelock YW will participate in the skit, "This Is Your Life, Havelock Y", and committee members in charge of planning the production include: Mrs. Ralph Slaughter, 1945; Mrs. Raymond Williamson, 1946-47; Mrs. L. A. Webster, 1948-49; Mrs. E. L. Sommer, 1950-51; Mrs. C. E. Rung, 1952-53; and Mrs. Glenn Litzberg, 1954-55.

The open house will continue until 9 o'clock in the evening, and musical entertainment during the evening hours will be presented by the Havelock Y-Teens. Mrs. Alex Faulhaber will be in charge of hostesses during the day, and Y-Teen members will serve as hostesses during the evening.

Refreshments will be served and exhibits of YW activities and craft classes will be featured. A nursery for pre-school members also will be provided.

The Havelock YW, with the Northeast YMCA and the city recreation department, is sponsoring a series of informal parties for boys and girls of junior high school age in the northeast area of the city.

On Monday evening, 7th grade boys and girls met for a masquerade party at the Havelock City Hall, and also on Monday, 8th grade teen-agers held a "platter" party at Northeast High School.

A "be-bop" party was held Tuesday evening at the high school for 9th graders in the community.

Parents of the boys and girls served as sponsors and chaperones, and the dances are planned by the junior high council which meets the first and third Monday evenings of each month at the YW Center.

Entertained

Mrs. Herbert Cooper was hostess to the members of the Izak Walton League Auxiliary at 7:30 o'clock, Wednesday evening, at her home, 700 Lyncrest Dr. The group discussed plans for the annual mother-daughter tea to be held in May.

Government Report Indicates U.S. Could Be Running Short Of Millionaires

WASHINGTON (INS) — A government report indicated Wednesday that the U. S. could be running short of millionaires.

The Internal Revenue Service reported there were only 148 of them in 1952, compared with 171 in 1951 and an all-time high of 219 in 1950.

At least, that was the number of Americans who filed tax returns listing income of more than one million dollars for those years.

However, the nation's supply of millionaires was still more adequate in 1952 than it was a decade ago. In 1944, there were only 62 of them; 71 in '45; 94 in '46; 114 in '47; 149 in '48; and 120 in '49.

Who were they? The revenue service won't say, although one official narrowed the field by telling a reporter: "Not me."

The service's statistical review of 1952 income also showed that nearly 18,000 returns that year reported taxable earnings of more than $100,000.

That was out of a total of 56 million returns filed in 1952, of which only 44 millions required the filer to pay any taxes at all. Altogether, they shelled out 28 billion dollars, an average of $649 each, which was an increase of $67 over 1951.

But getting back to the 148 millionaires, their aggregate income, after business deductions, was 289 million dollars. They paid 180 million dollars of it in income taxes, for an average of $1,217,341 each.

How did they get the dough? Only five million dollars of their income was in the nature of wages and salaries. Dividends accounted for 132 millions. Little items like business profits and rents took care of the rest.

New York state boasted the largest number of millionaires with 47, Pennsylvania came next with 17, followed by Illinois with 13, Texas had 11, California nine, Judge Retirement Deductions Must Wait-Atty. Gen.

No part of the 1955 Judges' Retirement Act becomes operative until Jan. 2, 1957, the attorney general's office ruled Wednesday.

The attorney general's opinion in response to questions raised by State Auditor Ray Johnson, was in line with the recent State Supreme Court decision.

While the 1955 legislative act became law on Sept. 18, 1955, none of its provisions become operative until next year, the attorney general's opinion said.

The judges from whose pay a percentage was deducted since last September to be placed in the retirement fund will get their money back under the attorney general's ruling.

But the dollar fee collected on each civil suit filed in the district courts since last September will remain in the retirement fund.

Estes Urges Arab, West, Israel Meet

... Situation 'Dangerous'

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Sen. Estes Kefauver Wednesday night urged for top leaders of Israel and the Arab states to sit down with the United States, France and Britain to discuss "the very dangerous situation" developing in the Middle East.

"Such a meeting with all the parties speaking frankly might bring the understanding and peace we seek," the Tennessee senator said. "If not, we would at least know then what the score is and be able to plan accordingly."

Kefauver wound up a whirlwind three-day swing through Florida. His bid for the state's 28 Democratic National Convention votes in the May 29 presidential preference primary against Adlai Stevenson was a speech at Miami Beach devoted to the Middle East crisis.

Possible Jr. Achievement Plan Studied

Preliminary plans for setting up a Junior Achievement Inc. business training program for high school students in Lincoln were discussed Wednesday by 30 local business men.

Herman Gall of St. Louis director of the National Field Service of Junior Achievement explained the program under which school corporations of high school students are set up to give the students practical training in the areas of sales, production and finance.

Lincoln's Kiwanis Club is taking the lead in seeking to have a Junior Achievement program established in Lincoln. Bill Horton, Kiwanis junior achievement committee chairman, said the aim of the program is to give high school students an opportunity to see firsthand the free enterprise system in action.

Under the program, he said, students meet with civic business and professional leaders once each week during the school year for two years of instruction. Thornton said the non-profit Junior Achievement movement was started in Massachusetts in 1923 but its main growth has been since 1946. The nationwide program is established in 80 communities and has more than 100,000 students participating. There are no Junior Achievement programs operating in Nebraska.

Thornton said the 30-member "steering committee" will meet again next Wednesday noon at the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the program further. A third meeting, to which more than 50 local business leaders will be invited is planned before May 1, Thornton said.

Mrs. Headley Rites Held At Beatrice

Funeral services were held at the Griffiths Funeral Home at Beatrice for Mrs. Eva M. Headley, 84, who died in Lincoln at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Snyder of 5418 Saylor.

The Rev. H. Willard Lampe, D.D., officiated, and burial was at Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Headley was born at Lewis, Mo., and had made her home on a farm near Beatrice for 42 years. She moved to Omaha in 1936 and came to Lincoln four years ago. Surviving are six daughters, Mrs. Hugh East of Lincoln, Mrs. Frank Grell of Fairbanks, Alaska, Mrs. George Armand of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Joe Ross of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Joe Baxter of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Mrs. Snyder; two sons, Sgt. Harland D. Headley of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and Elmer C. Headley of Beatrice; 15 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

"I suffered for weeks from muscle soreness..."

Ann when I tried Ben-Gay," writes Mrs. Henry Super of San Francisco, Cal. "With one application and the aid of my heating pad, the pain and soreness were relieved. After the second application, I awoke the next morning with not a sign of pain or soreness. I feel I can't praise Ben-Gay enough. I'll keep it handy always."

Countless people, like Mrs. Super, rely on Ben-Gay for fast relief from muscle aches and pains—and for good reason. Ben-Gay is different from any other pain-relieving product. It contains up to two and one half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than any of five other widely offered rub-ins! When you rub in Ben-Gay, two things happen. First, extra blood is brought coursing up through the affected area. Second, a pain-deadening action starts instantly to bring warm, soothing relief.

When sore, aching muscles trouble you, use Ben-Gay for sure, "superbly" relief. Rub in Ben-Gay... see how fast away!

said, when Communist Czechoslovakia began shipping arms to Egypt.

Kefauver told a news conference earlier he favored efforts by the United Nations to press for peace but said American troops should not be committed to the Middle East without congressional approval.

Kefauver charged in his speech that the crisis could have been avoided—there might not have been arming and counterarming, —if it had not been for the dangerous policy of drift which the State Department under John Foster Dulles—and under Dwight F. Eisenhower has allowed to develop.

Talked To Nasser
Kefauver said that more than a year and a half ago he had talked with Egyptian Prime Minister Nasser at Cairo. He said that at that time Nasser had discussed with him plans for the high Aswan Dam on the Nile River.

But, he said, years have passed since the Aswan Dam was first talked about "and once again we have lost the initiative to the Soviet Union. Now Egypt is negotiating with the Soviet regarding the Aswan Dam. And the Soviet's intentions, he said, are well known."

Kefauver charged at his news conference that Dulles is leading the American people "down the wrong path in suggesting a tremendous upheaval in the Soviet Union."

Kefauver said Dulles is "lulling us into false security when he says the present 'defame Stalin' drive means internal disintegration of the Soviet Union."

Emory P. Burnett Is 5th Municipal Judge Candidate

Emory P. Burnett, Lincoln attorney and University of Nebraska business law instructor, has filed for Municipal Court judge.

Burnett, 36, a University of Nebraska law graduate, has engaged in a law practice by himself since 1953. He is a member of the American, state and local bar associations, Barriester's Club, Knights of Commerce, and St. Mary's Cathedral Parish.

A World War II veteran, Burnett is an active member of the U.S. Army Reserve.

He has not previously been a candidate for any office. He is not married and lives at 1328 E. Other candidates for the two municipal judgeships are incumbent John Jacobson, Leo N. Barnum, Edwin F. Dosek and R. O. "Dick" Johnson.

Estes Urges Arab, West, Israel Meet

... Situation 'Dangerous'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver Wednesday night called for top leaders of Israel and the Arab states to sit down with the United States, France and Britain to discuss "the very dangerous situation" developing in the Middle East.

"Such a meeting, with all the parties speaking frankly, might bring the understanding and peace we seek," the Tennessee senator said. "If not, we would at least know then what the score is and be able to plan accordingly."

Kefauver wound up a whirlwind three-day swing through Florida in his bid for the state's 28 Democratic National Convention votes in the May 29 presidential preference primary against Adlai Stevenson with a speech at Miami Beach devoted to the Middle East crisis.

Possible Jr. Achievement Plan Studied

Preliminary plans for setting up a Junior Achievement Inc. business training program for high school students in Lincoln were discussed Wednesday by 30 local businessmen.

Herman Gall of St. Louis, director of the National Field Service of Junior Achievement, explained the program under which miniature corporations of high school students are set up to give the students practical training in the areas of sales, production and finance.

Lincoln's Kiwanis Club is taking the lead in seeking to have a Junior Achievement program established in Lincoln. Bill Thornton, Kiwanis junior achievement committee chairman, said the aim of the program is to give high school students an opportunity to see firsthand the free enterprise system in action.

Under the program, he said, students meet with civic, business and professional leaders once each week during the school year for two hours of instruction. Thornton said the non-profit Junior Achievement movement was started in Massachusetts in 1923 but its main growth has been since 1946. The nationwide program is established in 80 communities and has more than 50,000 students participating. There are no Junior Achievement programs operating in Nebraska.

Thornton said the 30-member "steering committee" will meet again next Wednesday noon at the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the program further. A third meeting, to which more than 50 local business leaders will be invited, is planned before May 1, Thornton said.

Mrs. Headley Rites Held At Beatrice

Funeral services were held at the Griffiths Funeral Home at Beatrice for Mrs. Eva M. Headley, 84, who died in Lincoln at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Snyder of 5418 Saylor.

The Rev. H. Willard Lampe, D.D., officiated, and burial was at Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Headley was born at Lewis, Ia., and had made her home on a farm near Beatrice for 42 years.

She moved to Omaha in 1936, and came to Lincoln four years ago. Surviving are six daughters, Mrs. Hugh D. East of Lincoln, Mrs. Frank Grell of Fairbanks, Alaska, Mrs. George Armand of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Joe Ross of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Joe Baxter of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Mrs. Snyder; two sons, Sgt. Harland D. Headley of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and Elmer C. Headley of Beatrice; 15 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

"I suffered for weeks from muscle soreness..."

And then I tried Ben-Gay", writes Mrs. Henry Super of San Francisco, Cal.: "With one application and the aid of my heating pad, the pain and soreness were relieved. After the second application, I awoke the next morning with not a sign of pain or soreness. I feel I can't praise Ben-Gay enough. I'll keep it handy always."

Countless people, like Mrs. Super, rely on Ben-Gay for fast relief from muscle aches and pains — and for good reason! Ben-Gay is different from any other pain-relieving product. It contains up to two and one half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than any of five other widely offered rub-ins! When you rub in Ben-Gay, two things happen. First, extra blood is brought coursing up through the affected area. Second, a pain-deadening action starts instantly to bring warm, soothing relief.

When sore, aching muscles trouble you, use Ben-Gay for sure, trustworthy relief. Rub in Ben-Gay... rub pain away!

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Golf's Greatest To Open Masters Today

Record 85 Will Start; No 'Standout' Favorite

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The 20th Masters, an exclusive tournament including the greatest golfers, starts today with every prospect that it will be the finest as well as the biggest ever played.

That's a broad statement because the comparatively brief history of the Masters is a record of sharp competition and superb play. From the beginning in 1934, when Bobby Jones invited some of his best-known golfing friends to help celebrate the opening of the new Augusta National course, to last year when Cary Middlecoff tamed the matured and tougher Augusta National, the Masters has produced an almost unbroken succession of stirring finishes.

Record Field
This year, with a record number of 85 golfers scheduled to start and without a standout favorite in the lot, almost anything could happen — from a repetition of the three-way 1954 struggle among Sam Snead, Ben Hogan and amateur Billy Joe Patton, to the shattering of Hogan's tournament record of 274.

The four players who have accounted for all but one Masters title since 1946 — Hogan, Snead, Middlecoff and Jimmy Demaret — head most of the listings of likely winners. They're all playing well and they're thoroughly familiar with the big, beautiful course that requires a lot of knowledge. But of these four, only Middlecoff played in enough winter tournaments to maintain a fine competitive edge. And he was among the first to say this will be the widest-open Masters in recent years.

'Retired' Champion
Hogan, for instance, has played almost no tournament golf since last year's U. S. Open. He has been sticking to his "retirement" announcement since he reached here, but Gene Sarazen for one doesn't believe him.

Hearing that Hogan had said he won't play in the British Open although he is going to England for the International Cup matches, and that he'll be in Rochester, N. Y., only on business when the U. S. Open is going on in June, Gene snorted:

"The idea of Hogan being on the sidelines at a National Open is just like an old fire horse sleeping through a central alarm. It just won't be done."

Snead, a three time Masters winner, hasn't played much more than Hogan this winter. Demaret, playing usually well this year for a 45-year-old golfer, has made more frequent and usually successful appearances on the winter tour and Middlecoff, another on-and-off player, has two tournament victories this year.

Strongest competition for this group is expected to come from the seasoned players who have come close on several occasions but never have won the Masters. But there are a lot of ambitious youngsters who aren't the least appalled by the domineering course or by the reputations of their elders.

As usual there'll be a seasoning of golf's grand old men who earned permanent Masters invitations by their past triumphs and who play here for sheer enjoyment without any idea of winning. And there are enough good amateurs to have a whale of a tournament by themselves, although they'll likely be overshadowed by the pros.

NIL Talking Of Pro Loop

LEXINGTON, Mo. — The possibility of turning the Nebraska Independent League, a semi-pro organization, into a Class D professional league has again been brought forth.

Robert L. Finch, public relations director for the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues, discussed the possibility at a meeting of baseball men from Kearney, Holdrege, Lexington, Grand Island and North Platte this week.

One factor handicapping such a league, however, would be the vote Tuesday of North Platte citizens against a $35,000 bond issue to provide a ball park.

Finch said the major leagues have been considering a "rookie" league and are searching for a suitable area in which to place high school and college players signed in June when school is out. He said the majors have proposed paying all expenses of players for a 60 game season but want ball parks furnished and kept up.

The five cities represented at the meeting expressed approval of such a set-up and indicated they intended to talk to baseball men at Hastings, McCook, Ogallala, Cozad and Norton, Kan., about a possible six or eight team lineup if something develops.

KNOW YOUR GOLF

By TOMMY ARMOUR
(First of a series)
The purpose of this new series of lessons is to get you playing better golf this season than you ever before. If at times these instructions seem overly simplified, just remember that Armour, the teacher (as well as the player) has always been known for his simplified and positive approach to the game. I propose to get you hitting that ball, and my method will emphasize the do's, rather than the don'ts of golf. I'll give due attention to the fundamentals, but I won't belabor you with nonessentials. In each lesson, with simple language and accurate illustration, I'll be working toward the all-important objective of getting you to hit the ball!

Defense Work To Get Stress In Grid Drills

Nebraska spring football practice resumed Wednesday afternoon and will continue each day through Saturday this week.

Coach Pete Elliott said much of the emphasis would be on defense.

"We're going to step up the screening process, particularly in regard to defensive play," he said. "We want to start fitting the right man in the right spot defensively."

Saturday's game-condition scrimmage will take place before the movie cameras.

"Movies of the first scrimmage were graded almost solely on offensive-blocking—but from now on defensive play will be graded as stiffly as offensive play," Elliott said.

Wednesday the squad went through drills designed to illuminate defensive abilities and weaknesses. The final portion of the two-hour session was devoted to scrimmages.

NE Rockets Open Baseball Play Monday

The Northeast baseball team will open its 1956 season by hosting the Southeast Knights next Monday.

Coach Bob Johnson has 10 games slated for the Rocket baseballers, with six scheduled for the home field.

Six lettermen are back from the 1955 squad. Coach Johnson is working with 16 varsity players. Lettermen include Rudy Stoehr, pitcher; Wayne Heister, infielder; Eugene Steffen, pitcher-utility; Ted Dewey, outfielder; Claire Fredstrom, infielder; Kermit Mobley, catcher. Three sophomores have shown promise in early workouts and may crash the starting lineup. They are Jan Wall, pitcher-first base; Doug Carlyle, infielder; and Marvin Simmons, catcher.

Other varsity players with experience on the reserve team last year include Don Wenzl, pitcher; John Munford, outfielders John Munford, Larry Danner, Larry Trennary and Jack Fager.

Harold Johnson and Ron Long are battling for the third base job.

Schedule
April 9—Southeast, 2—at Omaha, 3; April 10—Lincoln, 27—Boys Town, 25.

May 2—Omaha Holy Name, 4—Omaha Cathedral, 11—Lincoln, 12—Omaha South, 14—at Boys Town, 14.5; Westside, 21—at Southeast.

Hurd jump—Eldon Pequette (D), 20-2.

Veterans include LeRoy Virus, Bob Deterding, Cecil Ehlers, Merlin Holben, Eldon Pequette, Melvin Schardt, Jim Cabrera and Bob Cox. The Deshler schedule:

April 5—Deshler, winner, superior at Deshler.
April 6—Nebraska, 24—Deshler, 24.
April 7—Deshler, 24—Deshler, 24.

'I'll Testify' Says Wes

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee, the center of a legal brawl with the Amateur Athletic Union, declared Wednesday that "There will come a time when I will testify and the rest of the fellows will testify."

By the "rest of the fellows," he explained, he meant eight ex-athletes and three present athletes who are willing to come to his defense in his contention his expense accounts were not out of line with ordinary practice.

The AAU has suspended Santee for life for accepting excessive expense money. Santee is fighting the case in court and a decision is expected shortly on his suit to block the AAU from enforcing its edict.

Santee said he expected there would be an appeal no matter who won the present case.

Santee told a luncheon of the Sports Broadcasters Assn. that he had expected to testify in New York State Supreme Court on his contention that AAU rules were a dead letter, but that he was unable to do so because this part of his case was dropped when his attorneys were not prepared to go ahead with it at the moment it was called.

Santee's case in based on (1) whether the AAU executive committee that banned him had jurisdiction and (2) whether it acted properly.

"The way the AAU accepts hearsay evidence is ridiculous," said the star Kansas miler. "I think the rules on expense accounts are ridiculous."

"Dan Ferris (AAU secretary-treasurer) said he would consider $15 per day expenses. If he did I'd be okay."

"Any athlete who files violates the AAU rule, which covers train fare."

"If I had $25 a day expenses and plane fare I could justify every cent I spent."

"A lot of things are required of a star athlete. When he comes into a city he has to meet people. There are a lot of things he must do."

"My expenses for telephones run $60 to $70 per month. You can ask why I don't call collect, but you don't always want to do that. Then there is the matter of correspondence. A star athlete needs more clothes than an ordinary person, and better clothes."

"No fellows are making a living out of track. Any fellow who runs four to five hours per day has to love track."

Santee, in response to questions, said he thought the Olympics were "fine" as they are and should not be made into open competition between amateur and professional athletes.

Much of his speech was devoted to boosting the Marine Relays at Quantico this weekend, which have drawn some of the outstanding athletes of the nation. Santee is meet manager. The meet is under AAU jurisdiction.

66ers Win In Olympic Cage Meet

By SKIPPER PATRICK
KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The powerful Phillips 66ers won the team championship of the Olympic basketball playoffs Wednesday night but they had to sit on the sidelines for a couple of hours before they found it out.

The Seattle Buchanan Bakers downed the Armed Forces team, 82-79, in the final game of the round-robin schedule to boost Phillips into the title.

Phillips had downed the College All-Stars, 79-75, in the first game of Wednesday night's doubleheader. This gave both Phillips and the All-Stars a 2-1 record and required application of a point spread formula to decide the winner.

If Buchanan beat the Armed Forces, Phillips would be champion. If Armed Forces won, the College All-Stars would have been the titlists.

Buchanan and the Armed Forces put on a furious proxy battle for the two would-be champions watching with 7,500 other spectators in Municipal Auditorium.

The Phillips 66ers, long-time AAU basketball power, will get a minimum of five and a maximum of seven players on the U.S. team. However, K. S. Adams head of the Phillips team, said all 14 men, including four players picked up from the National AAU tournament in Denver, will be sent to the world games.

Phillips would have settled the championship in tonight's first game if they had won by 5 points, but they fell 1 point short.

In the windup Dick Boushka, former St. Louis University and Wichita Vickers star, was the leading scorer for Buchanan with 25 points. Boushka was a bonus player from the National AAU Tournament played in Denver two weeks ago.

Ray Warren, 6-6 center from Texas Christian University, came through with top individual honors on 26 points. His Armed Forces teammate, Ron Tormick, ex-Stanford University ace, helped with 23 while playing a nifty floor game.

Phillips finished the round robin set with identical 2-1 records, while the Armed Forces and the Seattle team each finished 1-2.

There was little difference in the shooting averages between the Bakers and the Armed Forces club. The Buchans hit 30 of 74 attempts from the field for a 40.5 percentage, while the servicemen connected on 33 of 82 tries for a 40.2 average.

The finale was just about as close as a basketball game could get. The score was deadlocked 42-42 at the half after the Armed Forces had pushed ahead by 9 points, 19-10, after 7 1/2 minutes of the game. There were two 4-point spreads, both by the Buchans, in the second half.

Hal Lear of the College All-Stars was the high scorer of the first game with 24 points. Teammate Bill Russell, of the University of San Francisco, had 19. Chuck Darling, a 6-9 center, was high for the 66ers.

Tigers Tip Bosox In Hurlers' Battle

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers closed out their Florida exhibition scheduled Wednesday by shading the Boston Red Sox 2-1 in a pitchers' battle worthy of mid-season.

Bob Miller and Dick Marlowe bested Mel Parnell and Frank Baumann with the help of an unearned run that provided the margin of victory.

Miller gave up two hits in three innings, Marlowe five in six, with the only telling blow a bases-empty homer by center fielder Jackie Keough in the third off Marlowe.

'56 Grid Slate Listed By Knights

Southeast High School has announced its football slate for 1956, with nine games on the schedule.

First foe for the Class A Knights is Fremont. The meeting will take place on the sod of the Lincoln High Oval, Friday night, Sept. 14.

Coach Tom Gillaspie of the Knights is "beefing up" the schedule as quickly as he can, picking up several Class A schools for the 1956 program.

The schedule:
Sept. 14—Fremont at LHS Oval; 21—Burlington at LHS Oval; 28—St. Beatrice; Oct. 5—at Norfolk; 12—at Seward; 18—Norfolk at LHS Oval; 24—Tecumseh at LHS Oval.

Nov. 2—Omaha Holy Name at LHS Oval; 9—at Grand Island.

The meet will be moved indoors if the weather is inclement. Starting time is 1:30 p.m.

Hudson Star Of Meet

OMAHA (AP)—Marion Hudson of Dana won the board jump, javelin, discus, high jump and 100 yard dash and was second in the shot put as Omaha University won a triangular track meet here Wednesday with 66 points to 44 for Dana and 19 for Midland.

66ers Win In Olympic Cage Meet

By SKIPPER PATRICK
KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The powerful Phillips 66ers won the team championship of the Olympic basketball playoffs Wednesday night but they had to sit on the sidelines for a couple of hours before they found it out.

The Seattle Buchanan Bakers downed the Armed Forces team, 82-79, in the final game of the round-robin schedule to boost Phillips into the title.

Phillips had downed the College All-Stars, 79-75, in the first game of Wednesday night's doubleheader. This gave both Phillips and the All-Stars a 2-1 record and required application of a point spread formula to decide the winner.

If Buchanan beat the Armed Forces, Phillips would be champion. If Armed Forces won, the College All-Stars would have been the titlists.

Buchanan and the Armed Forces put on a furious proxy battle for the two would-be champions watching with 7,500 other spectators in Municipal Auditorium.

The Phillips 66ers, long-time AAU basketball power, will get a minimum of five and a maximum of seven players on the U.S. team. However, K. S. Adams head of the Phillips team, said all 14 men, including four players picked up from the National AAU tournament in Denver, will be sent to the world games.

Phillips would have settled the championship in tonight's first game if they had won by 5 points, but they fell 1 point short.

In the windup Dick Boushka, former St. Louis University and Wichita Vickers star, was the leading scorer for Buchanan with 25 points. Boushka was a bonus player from the National AAU Tournament played in Denver two weeks ago.

Ray Warren, 6-6 center from Texas Christian University, came through with top individual honors on 26 points. His Armed Forces teammate, Ron Tormick, ex-Stanford University ace, helped with 23 while playing a nifty floor game.

Phillips finished the round robin set with identical 2-1 records, while the Armed Forces and the Seattle team each finished 1-2.

There was little difference in the shooting averages between the Bakers and the Armed Forces club. The Buchans hit 30 of 74 attempts from the field for a 40.5 percentage, while the servicemen connected on 33 of 82 tries for a 40.2 average.

The finale was just about as close as a basketball game could get. The score was deadlocked 42-42 at the half after the Armed Forces had pushed ahead by 9 points, 19-10, after 7 1/2 minutes of the game. There were two 4-point spreads, both by the Buchans, in the second half.

Hal Lear of the College All-Stars was the high scorer of the first game with 24 points. Teammate Bill Russell, of the University of San Francisco, had 19. Chuck Darling, a 6-9 center, was high for the 66ers.

Pirates 4-2 Win Led By Clemente

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Outfielder Roberto Clemente had three hits in three attempts Wednesday to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The Pirates sewed up the victory in the second inning when they scored three runs off losing pitcher Art O'Connell. They added another in the seventh on a single by Clemente, a sacrifice by catcher Toby Atwell and a single by pinch-hitter Danny Kravitz.

Did Trade Make Sox Contender?

By JACK HAND

T A M P A Fla. (AP) — With Larry Doby slugging around the 400 level and Luis Aparicio making the grade at shortstop, the Chicago White Sox think their deal with Cleveland has made them a strong pennant contender.

Who will play shortstop? That was the big question after (Coco) Carrasquel was traded to Cleveland with Jim Busby for Doby.

Manager Marty Marion said shortstop in his own day believes the 21-year-old rookie from Venezuela is the answer.

Aparicio, known for his pretty, said Marion. He has good speed and is a fine base stealer. He probably won't hit with Chicago but he will cover more ground. I am convinced he can do the job for us at shortstop.

Marion raves about Doby's power and will he might. Although the White Sox led the league in hitting last year at 260, they lacked the home run punch of the other contenders. In the 1955 spring games Doby drove in 16 runs, hit 6 homers and batted .412.

A year ago Marion lastly predicted "Well, we'll win the pennant. The Sox finished third because of five games. They faded in the stretch after leading as late as Sept. 3.

Marion makes no such forecast this year. "We're a stronger club than last spring," he said. "If we had Doby last year we'd have won. But you have to say the Yankees are the team to beat."

The Sox again will be a running team this year, headed by Jim Rivera, leading base stealer in the league. "I'm partial to speed," said Marion whose Sox topped the league last year with 69 stolen bases. Aparicio stole 48 at Memphis.

The Sox may have another new face in the starting lineup Sam Esposito, a fine-looking rookie from Memphis where he hit .281 has been making a strong bid for the third base job. He probably will spell George Kell, the club's leading hitter at .312, when the 33-year-old Kell needs a rest.

Marion had a consistent pitching last year with the staff turning in 20 shutouts and 53 complete games.

21st Straight For Martinez

By BEN FLUK

MIAMI BEACH Fla. (AP) — Clever Vince Martinez, one of the hottest fighters in the welterweight division, pounded out a lopsided decision over Miguel Diaz of Cuba Wednesday night to rack up his 21st straight victory.

Martinez, the fourth-ranking welterweight title contender from Paterson, N.J., hit Diaz with every punch he knows but not until the ninth round was he able to put the tough wild-swinging Cuban champion down.

Diaz was leading in the ninth round when Martinez suddenly caught him with a left and right to the jaw. The bell stopped the count at seven as Diaz scrambled to his feet.

In the 10th and final round a thundering right to the jaw by Martinez knocked Diaz into the ropes and down but he got up again on the count of eight and was still on his feet weathering a storm of punches when the fight ended.

Judge Gus Jacobson gave Martinez 99 points to 88 for Diaz. Judge Stu Winston called it 99-89 and Referee Eddie Coachman 100-85. The Associated Press voted Martinez a 100-89 victory. The fight was judged on the basis of 10 points for the winner of each round and 9 or less for the loser.

McIntire Quits As Falls City High Coach

FALLS CITY — Jack McIntire, the Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star's Prep Coach of the Year in 1955, has resigned as head coach at Falls City High School.

The highly successful prep mentor has guided Falls City athletic teams in football, basketball and track for 10 years. He will finish the current track season before leaving Falls City.

McIntire said he was going to continue in the coaching profession. A reliable report indicated McIntire had accepted the head basketball coaching position at Peru State College, his alma mater.

An official announcement from Peru is expected soon.

Successor Soon

Latest accomplishment of a McIntire-coached club was the Class A basketball crown won by the Tigers in the 1956 State Championships.

Falls City has a talented track squad, rated a threat for another state title.

No successor has been named, but a replacement may be named this week. Asst. Coach Bob Henderson is reported as top candidate to replace McIntire.

Outstanding Teams

McIntire, a native of Nebraska, started coaching at Falls City in 1946. In football, his clubs won 71 and lost 17 with one tie. In basketball the record under McIntire reads 126 wins and only 47 defeats.

McIntire's 1954 Falls City football team was undefeated.

14 Cagers Letter At David City

DAVID CITY — Coach John Gakemeier has announced that 14 members of the David City High School cage squad have earned varsity letters.

Heading the monogram winners are seniors, Tony Davis and Jerry Hoeft, the one-two scoring punch of the Scout squad. Other senior lettermen are Leonard Cernak, Dale Frus, Denny McElravy, Bob Porter and Henry Rozanek.

Two juniors saw enough action to earn letters. They are Terry Vavrina and Reavis Gibb.

This year three sophomores were given letters for varsity action. The underclassmen are Bill Payne, Bill Tolkuehn and Mike Vasina.

Cornhusker Loop Expands To Ten

YORK — The Cornhusker Baseball League has been reorganized into a 10-team league. Last year the loop operated with six clubs.

Towns entering teams in the league this year are Genoa, Stromsburg, Geneva, Sutton, Crete, Union, Columbus, Schuyler, York and York.

The Cornhusker League season will open May 13. All games will be played at night.

Bellevue Winner In Triangular Go

BELLEVUE — In freezing temperatures, Bellevue scored 83 points here to win a triangular track meet with Abraham Lincoln and Council Bluffs and Glenwood, Iowa.

Poodle 'Suzette' is Child's Reward For Sacrificing Her Dream

MILTON, Mass. (AP) — A French poodle puppy cuddled up to 9-year-old Rosalind Jordan Wednesday—a consequence of her generosity to the Jesuit priests of the New England province.

Rosalind, bed-ridden with a rheumatic condition, had saved her pennies for four months to buy a French poodle. Then, last March 11 while watching a televised Mass, she learned four Jesuits perished in a fire that destroyed a Jesuit novitiate at Lenox.

Her dream of a dog as a companion at her bedside vanished when she sent her savings—$140—to the Rev. George V. McCabe, S. J., of the Jesuit Shadowbrook Fund.

"I want you to have it," her letter said. "I am sorry your house burned down. I hope this money will help you."

Father McCabe wrote Rosalind, thanking her for the donation and telling her every Jesuit in the New England province had started

Radio, TV Group Elect Paul Fry

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Paul Fry, president and general manager of KBON, Omaha, was elected state chairman of the Associated Press Radio and Television Assn. meeting in Hastings. Bob Morris, news director of KBRL of McCook, was named vice chairman.

Grand Island was selected as the next meeting place on the invitation from KRGI of Grand Island.

praying for her recovery—and that she would get her French poodle.

An Associated Press story of Rosalind's sacrifice did much to open the hearts of New England. Offers of French poodles deluged newsrooms and radio stations.

"Suzette" The first and accepted offer came from Mrs. Glenn Hall, owner of a Dedham Kennel. Mrs. Hall's daughter, Wendy, 7, presented a pedigree poodle to Rosalind, and the bed-ridden youngster dubbed her new pet "Suzette."

Wendy's presentation is another story of sacrifice. "Suzette" was one of a litter of six which Wendy's parents planned to sell to buy her a pony. Wendy agreed to wait for the pony if her gift would make a sick little girl happy.

GI, On His Way To Dance, Saves Trio From Death

WICHITA, Kan. (INS) — Jerry L. York of Seattle, Wash., is a likely candidate for a hero's medal. Wichita authorities credit the Fort Riley, Kan., soldier with saving the lives of three men who were marooned three hours when their boat overturned in the Arkansas River.

York and his girl friend were en route to a dance when they noticed the men clinging to the boat. Sending the girl to call firemen and an ambulance, the GI dove into the chilly water and helped support one of the men who was suffering from exposure. Help arrived in another half hour.

York then changed into dry clothes and escorted his "date" to the dance.

Lopez Arrested

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The government disclosed that Col. Ramon Barquin Lopez, for the past three years Cuba's military attaché in Washington, was among officers under arrest for allegedly conspiring against President Fulgencio Batista.

The government has not announced the name of the leader of the plot, but the army's General Staff said court-martial proceedings have been started against 12 officers. All were seized at Camp Columbia, army headquarters on the outskirts of Havana.

Detroit Cops Crack Giant Vice Ring

DETROIT (AP)—Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien Wednesday said police had broken up a vice ring which used call girls as young as 15 and charged as much as $200 a night.

"It is the largest vice operation of its kind I have seen any time," said the veteran prosecutor.

Police said the arrest of nine culminated a year's investigation. Officers said the ring operated in downtown hotels and apartment houses through bellhops and taxi drivers.

O'Brien said the girls charged anywhere from $10 to $200 nightly.

Among those arrested were Vito Desantimo Jr., 25, Mrs. Doris Wood, 24, and Sam Nallo, all of Detroit. They were charged in warrants with enticing females to enter prostitution, causing females under 17 to remain in a house of prostitution and accepting earnings from prostitutes. The others were charged with accepting earnings.

Poodle 'Suzette' Is Child's Reward For Sacrificing Her Dream

MILTON, Mass. (AP) — A French poodle puppy cuddled up to 9-year-old Rosalind Jordan Wednesday—a consequence of her generosity to the Jesuit priests of the New England province.

Rosalind, bedridden with a rheumatic condition, had saved her pennies for four months to buy a French poodle. Then, last March 11, while watching a televised Mass, she learned four Jesuits perished in a fire that destroyed a Jesuit novitiate at Lenox.

Her dream of a dog as a companion at her bedside vanished when she sent her savings—$1.40—to the Rev. George V. McCabe, S. J., of the Jesuit Shadowbrook Fund.

"I want you to have it," her letter said. "I am sorry your house burned down. I hope this money will help you."

Father McCabe wrote Rosalind, thanking her for the donation and telling her every Jesuit in the New England province had started praying for her recovery—and that she would get her French poodle.

An Associated Press story of Rosalind's sacrifice did much to open the hearts of New England. Offers of French poodles deluged newsrooms and radio stations.

"Suzette"

The first and accepted offer came from Mrs. Glenn Hall, owner of a Dedham Kennel. Mrs. Hall's daughter, Wendy, 7, presented a pedigreed poodle to Rosalind, and the bed-ridden youngster dubbed her new pet "Suzette."

Wendy's presentation is another story of sacrifice.

"Suzette" was one of a litter of six which Wendy's parents planned to sell to buy her a pony. Wendy agreed to wait for the pony if her gift would make a sick little girl happy.

Radio, TV Group Elect Paul Fry

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Paul Fry, president and general manager of KBON, Omaha, was elected state chairman of the Associated Press Radio and Television Assn. meeting in Hastings. Bob Morris, news director of KBRL of McCook, was named vice chairman.

Grand Island was selected as the next meeting place on the invitation from KRGH of Grand Island.

GI, On His Way To Dance, Saves Trio From Death

WICHITA, Kan. (INS) — Jerry L. York of Seattle, Wash., is a likely candidate for a hero's medal.

Wichita authorities credit the Fort Riley, Kan., soldier with saving the lives of three men who were marooned three hours when their boat overturned in the Arkansas River.

York and his girl friend were en route to a dance when they noticed the men clinging to the boat. Sending the girl to call firemen and an ambulance, the GI dove into the chilly water and helped support one of the men who was suffering from exposure. Help arrived in another half-hour.

York then changed into dry clothes and escorted his "date" to the dance.

Record Clerk's Firing Stands, Warden Says

Warden Joseph Bovey of the Nebraska Penitentiary said Wednesday he has notified Mrs. Maxine Carlile she will not be reinstated in her position as record clerk at the Penitentiary.

Mrs. Carlile was dismissed March 22 after police, acting for the State Parole Board, arrested a recent parolee at her home.

The parolee, 30-year-old Charles Marshall, was picked up for alleged parole violation and has been returned to the prison to serve out the remainder of a three year term for obtaining money under false pretenses.

A week ago Mrs. Carlile asked Warden Bovey to reinstate her in the position.

The warden took the matter under advisement. But Thursday he said he has "learned nothing that would alter my original decision."

"As far as I am concerned, the case is closed," he stated.

Mrs. Carlile has said Marshall, former leader of the prison band, was a friend of the entire family and she had been trying to help him "make his parole" since his release in January.

Marshall had sought her out for advice and she was encouraging him to report to the parole board when police arrested him, she has said.

Mrs. Carlile said she knows of no rule forbidding parolees from associating with prison employees.

West Lincoln Board Members Re-Elected

Fred C. Way got 47 votes, Fay Hawkins, 38, and Jack Brown 25 for re-election to the West Lincoln board of trustees.

Running against the three incumbents were Lyle Allen, Ronald Tubbs, Glen Weiler, Donald Graff and Al Knaub.

Mrs. Thelma Goodwin was re-elected to a three-year term on the school board. Gordon Ostlund also was elected to a three-year term as new member of the board.

Mrs. Goodwin and Ostlund defeated Mrs. Jo Wilson and Mrs. Thelma Kahlitz.

Removing Norfolk To Butte Bus OK'd

The Railway Commission reported Wednesday Arrow Stage Lines of Norfolk has been given permission to suspend service between Norfolk and Butte, Neb., and the South Dakota line for 90 days.

Action at the end of that trial period will depend on the manner in which discontinuance of the service on the line is received, a commission spokesman explained.

A public hearing may be held later, he added.

Only the one run is affected. The hearing on the Diller Telephone Co.'s proposal to buy the property of the Odell Independent Telephone Co. is set for April 18 at the courthouse in Beatrice.

Rumble From The Farmyard Has GOP Worried In Illinois, Too

By JACK BELL
CHICAGO — Illinois Republicans have prosperity and President Eisenhower running for them and would count the state safely in the November election bag if they could be sure the farmer isn't as mad as the Democrats contend.

GOP Gov. William G. Stratton said he thinks Eisenhower will "run as well or better than he did four years ago" when he carried Illinois by 443,000 votes.

Stratton reported that prosperity is "very high" in the state, with unemployment averaging only 30,000 to 70,000 and payrolls averaging $85 weekly. He said that is $10 above the national level.

Not So Confident

But the governor wasn't so confident about the farm situation, about which the Democrats have been making strong political medicine in this state as elsewhere in the Midwest.

"I would be less than frank if I didn't say that the farmers would like to see something done," Stratton said. "The farmer wants a relatively larger share of the income but I see no signs of any better revolt."

GOP Sen. Everett Dirksen, who is running again, said he thinks the farmer is "not happy" but might be helped by the new farm bill. He even found Secretary of Agriculture Benson, chief target of Democratic attack, "retrieving his position" in Illinois.

Small Farmer

Dirksen and Stratton said it is the small farmer, tilling marginal land, who is protesting loudest. Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley, who is by way of becoming state boss of his party, agreed with that analysis. So did Herbert Lockwood, state manager for Sen. Estes Kefauver, who is counting heavily on the farm vote in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Dirksen said he thinks most of the state's farmers back the Eisenhower-Benson program of flexible price supports. The strong position of the American Farm Bureau Federation in the state seems to confirm this.

Nevertheless, a cross-section check of the farmers and small town merchants who deal with them indicated there is considerable dissatisfaction. This might be translated into Democratic votes in normally-Republican areas if government checks don't start arriving early next fall.

Look Prosperous

Rock Island and Moline farm implement makers aren't too happy over sales. But outside the marginal land areas in the southern part of the state, Illinois' farms are painted, spruce and outwardly prosperous.

In a state where Daley estimated 80 per cent of the people live in the cities, there are all the earmarks of general industrial prosperity. That does not apply to the southern coal mining areas, where unemployment and relief rolls are high.

Democrats are capitalizing on what edges toward a 1929 depression there. Stratton has set up a special industrial development division to help the area get bolstering industries. But Democrats say his action is too little and too late.

In Cook County — Chicago —

which cast about 53 per cent of the state vote in the 1952 presidential election, more money has been invested in industrial plants since World War II than in any other American community.

Windy City 'Fair'

It is here in booming Chicago that prosperity and the pocket-book vote may count most for the Republicans. Because of the GOP suburbs, Eisenhower carried the county by 16,000 votes four years ago. Daley is trying to turn this around to a 300,000 Democratic margin. But Stratton says he can't do it.

Stratton, a possible Republican presidential aspirant in 1960, thinks labor is going to give a majority of its votes to the GOP in November. He already has the endorsement of the state AFL in his primary race for re-nomination.

Dirksen said he believes labor will give him "reasonable support."

His prospective Democratic opponent, Richard Stengel, a state legislator, obviously is counting heavily on union backing.

Stratton claims he has stopped all "anti-labor" bills in the state Legislature, has raised unemployment and industrial injury compensation payments and has re-codified mine safety laws.

Segregation An Issue

Dirksen, Stratton and Illinois Republican congressmen believe the Democratic controversy over the Supreme Court's order for racial integration in the schools will help them, particularly in Chicago wards.

Dirksen has introduced Fair Employment Practices Commission bills. Stratton has a Negro, Joseph Bibb, in his Cabinet in the responsible job of director of public safety.

Eisenhower's popularity in Illinois is discounted by the Democrats. Democratic Rep. Charles

A. Boyle said he thinks Eisenhower is at his peak now and can't go anywhere but down.

Stratton has four opponents in the April 10 primary and that fact alone is expected to bring out a resounding Republican vote for Eisenhower, whose name is entered in the presidential preference voting.

There has been talk of a "protest" vote for Republican Sen. William Knowland of California. Knowland couldn't withdraw his name after Eisenhower announced his availability for the party nomination.

Unless Knowland's vote substantially tops 30,000, however, Republican leaders said they would not regard it as being significant.

By JACK BELL
CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois Republicans have prospered and President Eisenhower running for them and would count the state safely in the November election bag if they could be sure the farmer isn't as mad as the Democrats contend.
GOP Gov. William G. Stratton said he thinks Eisenhower will "run as well or better than he did four years ago" when he carried Illinois by 443,000 votes.
Stratton reported that prosperity is "very high" in the state, with unemployment averaging only 50,000 to 70,000 and payrolls averaging $85 weekly. He said that is $10 above the national level.
Not So Confident
But the governor wasn't so confident about the farm situation, about which the Democrats have been making strong political medicine in this state as elsewhere in the Midwest.
"I would be less than frank if I didn't say that the farmers would like to see something done," Stratton said. "The farmer wants a relatively larger share of the income but I see no signs of any bitter revolt."
GOP Sen. Everett Dirksen, who is running again, said he thinks the farmer is "not happy" but might be helped by the new farm bill. He even found Secretary of Agriculture Benson, chief target of Democratic attack, "retrieving his position" in Illinois.
Small Farmer
Dirksen and Stratton said it is the small farmer, tilling marginal land, who is protesting loudest. Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley, who is by way of becoming state boss of his party, agreed with that analysis. So did Herbert Lockwood, state manager for Sen. Estes Kefauver, who is counting heavily on the farm vote in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.
Dirksen said he thinks most of the state's farmers back the Eisenhower-Benson program of flexible price supports. The strong position of the American Farm Bureau Federation in the state seems to confirm this.
Nevertheless, a cross-section check of the farmers and small town merchants who deal with them indicated there is considerable dissatisfaction. This might be translated into Democratic votes in normally-Republican areas if government checks don't start arriving early next fall.
Look Prosperous
Rock Island and Moline farm implement makers aren't too happy over sales. But outside the marginal land areas in the southern part of the state, Illinois' farms are painted, spruce and outwardly prosperous.
In a state where Daley estimated 80 per cent of the people live in the cities, there are all the earmarks of general industrial prosperity. That does not apply to the southern coal mining areas, where unemployment and relief rolls are high.
Democrats are capitalizing on what edges toward a 1929 depression there. Stratton has set up a special industrial development division to help the area get bolstering industries. But Democrats say his action is too little and too late.
In Cook County — Chicago —

which cast about 53 per cent of the state vote in the 1952 presidential election, more money has been invested in industrial plants since World War II than in any other American community.
Windy City 'Fat'
It is here in booming Chicago that prosperity and the pocket-book vote may count most for the Republicans. Because of the GOP suburbs, Eisenhower carried the county by 16,000 votes four years ago. Daley is trying to turn this around to a 300,000 Democratic margin. But Stratton says he can't do it.
Stratton, a possible Republican presidential aspirant in 1960, thinks labor is going to give a majority of its votes to the GOP in November. He already has the endorsement of the state AFL in his primary race for renomination.
Dirksen said he believes labor will give him "reasonable support."

His prospective Democratic opponent, Richard Stengel, a state legislator, obviously is counting heavily on union backing.
Stratton claims he has stopped all "antilabor" bills in the state Legislature, has raised unemployment and industrial injury compensation payments and has re-codified mine safety laws.
Segregation An Issue
Dirksen, Stratton and Illinois Republican congressmen believe the Democratic controversy over the Supreme Court's order for racial integration in the schools will help them, particularly in Chicago wards.
Dirksen has introduced Fair Employment Practices Commission bills. Stratton has a Negro, Joseph Bibb, in his Cabinet in the responsible job of director of public safety.
Eisenhower's popularity in Illinois is discounted by the Democrats. Democratic Rep. Charles

A. Boyle said he thinks Eisenhower is at his peak now and can't go anywhere but down.
Stratton has four opponents in the April 10 primary and that fact alone is expected to bring out a resounding Republican vote for Eisenhower, whose name is entered in the presidential preference voting.
There has been talk of a "protest" vote for Republican Sen. William Knowland of California. Knowland couldn't withdraw his name after Eisenhower announced his availability for the party nomination.
Unless Knowland's vote substantially tops 30,000, however, Republican leaders said they would not regard it as being significant.

Don't blame your dentist if false teeth loosen up
Don't blame your dentist if false teeth loosen up—gums feel sore—can't eat solid food—afraid to laugh for fear plates will fall out. It's not your dentist's fault—Nature shrinks your gums. Then plates get loose—feel uncomfortable—plates "click-ety-clack"—embarrassing. What to do?
If you can't afford another set of teeth, get Snugg® brand Denture Cushions—a new soft plastic that relines loose false teeth in a jiffy. You do it yourself with a pair of scissors in the privacy of your own home. Snugg holds false teeth tight—grips gums like "living tissue". Always stays soft—never hardens and ruins plate—peels right out when replacement is needed. Harmless—easy to clean.
Snugg eases sore gums when plates get loose and don't fit. So don't blame your dentist when gums shrink and dentures wobble. Get Snugg brand Denture Cushions today. 2 liners for upper or lower plate, $1.50. At all druggists. Money back if not satisfied.

Jeary Tempers Talk Of Annexation, Saying It's Poor Financial Deal

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

While two proposed annexations would bring an additional $19,776 in taxes into the city's coffers annually, the extension of the city limits would probably still not be a good financial proposition, according to Mayor Clark Jeary.

Ordinances are pending on second reading before the City Council to annex a 1,210-acre tract of land on both sides of West O and another 765-acre tract along Cornhusker Highway between 14th and 35th.

The West O tract has a total valuation for tax purposes of $282,475 which would produce $11,502 on the city's levy of 14.7 mills. The highway area has a valuation of $362,890 which would produce $8,274 in city taxes.

However, Jeary said he feels the cost of extending city services into those areas would exceed the tax revenue. He said, however, that he was neither opposed nor in favor of the annexations at this time.

Woman Who Set Washington Fires From Michigan

WASHINGTON (INS) — The White House Wednesday identified a woman held for setting fires in the White House and adjoining executive office building as Mrs. Hilma Marie Marks of St. Clair Shores, Mich.

The White House said the woman is still in District of Columbia General Hospital under mental observation.

Pending the outcome of hospital observation, the White House said that no police charges have been preferred against her.

When apprehended Tuesday afternoon after setting one small blaze in the White House red room and four others in the executive building the woman gave her name as Mrs. Hilma Marie Marks, and said she was born in Hagerstown, Md.

The White House said that the Secret Service has determined the woman's true identity. They reported that she was born in Ruth, Mich., April 24, 1905.

The White House said Mrs. Marks arrived in Washington by bus April 1, and had been staying at a local hotel.

Mystery Blast Hits Florida West Coast

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — A mysterious explosion, or series of explosions, shook buildings over 80 miles of the Florida west coast Wednesday night. There were no reports of injuries or damage other than a few broken windows.

Some persons said the effect was like that of an earthquake. Others described it as an explosion or concussion. No one reported seeing any flash or flare.

The Coast Guard said all its planes, those from MacDill Air Force Base at Tampa and civilian planes in the area, have been accounted for.

The reports came from Clearwater on the north to Venice on the south. The only damage reported was a few broken windows at Bradenton, but many persons said their houses shook on their foundations.

The Coast Guard said the explosion might have occurred in the Gulf of Mexico. A helicopter was sent up to investigate.

The winner was crowned by Stars George Gobel and Mitzi Gaynor.

Science Develops New Tablet: Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps For 3 out of 4 Women Tested! Gives Greater Relief Than Aspirin!

Boston, Mass. (Special)—New promise of relief for women who suffer from monthly cramps and nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet... developed especially to relieve this female discomfort. It offers greater relief than aspirin during that distressing period each month!

Doctors report remarkable results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functionally-caused distress... were also less jittery the trying week before their period!

The new tablet contains not just one or two ingredients but a unique combination of special medicines. That's why this new discovery offers more relief than plain aspirin! Unlike such "general-purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has amazing power to calm uterine contractions, also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," the formula was developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to relief of women's ailments! Easy-to-take new Pinkham's Tablets are now available at all drug stores without a prescription.

So don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets yourself! See if you don't feel worlds better this very month. See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort—both before and during those "difficult days." (For liquid form, ask for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

Speakers Named For Grandinger Defense Meeting

Three speakers who will tell about the Lloyd Grandinger case will lead off a meeting Thursday night which has been called to discuss raising money for Grandinger's defense.

The three will be Paul Meadows and Robert T. Malone, both of the Lincoln Council on Human Relations, which called the meeting, and Caleb Foote, University of Nebraska law college faculty member.

Meadows, who is head of the Human Relations Council, said the three will explain different aspects of the case and suggest possible action.

Grandinger is now under sentence of death, but has received a stay of execution pending a U. S. Supreme Court appeal. The Human Relations Council, claiming the Grandinger trial was unfair, seeks formation of a committee to raise money to pay for further legal moves.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA.

Home-By-Home Fire Hazards Check To Start At Mid-Month

By ELIAS RALL
Star Staff Writer

One of the most complete and extensive fire prevention programs in the state will begin April 16 in Lincoln.

That's the day when some 131 Lincoln firemen will begin a house-to-house, block by block, fire inspection program of city homes.

Of the estimated 30,000 homes in Lincoln, Fire Chief Paul Feaster and Fire Inspector Roscoe Benton thought some 10,000 will be inspected by fall.

Inspection will be carried out by uniformed firemen, the chief said. Every day from April until bad weather sets in, he continued, at least 12 firemen will be inspecting homes.

12 Districts
The city has been divided into 12 districts, Benton, who is in charge of the program, said. One fire company, led by the fire captain of that company, will be responsible to see that its district is inspected, he said.

"We will inspect in advisory capacity only," Feaster said. Firemen, he said, will point out possible hazards and make suggestions for their improvement or correction.

Nothing about the program is mandatory, he asserted. Under no circumstances will a fireman inspect a home against the householders' wish or without his consent. However, both Feaster and Benton pointed out that it would be to the advantage of the householders to have their homes checked for hazards.

Feaster pointed out that this is the first time such a complete inspection program has been started in the state.

The program itself is not new, he said. It has been in operation in other areas, primarily the West Coast, he said.

Los Angeles, for instance, uses such a program, he said. Last year deaths of children caused by dwelling fires was cut to three. If that rate was maintained through out the year, he continued, the 1,000 children who died last year in home blazes would be cut to only 201.

When brings up the basic object of the fire program.

Both Feaster and Benton explained it thus: The goal is to cut the number of deaths, injuries and eliminate injuries and deaths caused by such fires, especially to the younger age bracket. The program is in conjunction with a nation-wide fire prevention program of the International Fire Chiefs Assn.

At a meeting Wednesday night all of the firemen attended an inspection indoctrination program. Benton and Feaster outlined inspection plans. Mayor Clark Jeary was also on hand.

At the meeting the firemen were instructed on how to maintain good public relations procedure to follow during inspection and things to look for during the inspection.

Speaking on public relations, Feaster said, if the weather is bad or rainy he didn't want men tracking mud into clean homes. Part of the program also he continued will be explained to the public how the department works and how fire apparatus is dispatched to fires.

Firemen will be looking for fire hazards primarily. Things such as bad, exposed wiring, trash, oily rags, improperly functioning equipment, open fires, matches or other things in reach of small children who could start fires with them, all will be included in the inspection.

If such things are located, both Feaster and Benton reassured, the householder need not be worried about receiving orders from the city to clean up, or else. Inspectors will only suggest how to improve the conditions.

The purpose of the program, they said, is not to crack down, but to prevent dwelling fires and to do this with the help and co-operation of the public.

City Mapped For Inspection

Fire Inspector Roscoe Benton (center) points to a map showing how the city is divided into 12 districts for the coming year's house-by-house fire inspection.

Sorry, Tim, But We're Fresh Out Of Free Horses

WASHINGTON, P. — The U. S. Forest Service is sorry, but it has no horses to give or lend to young Americans who signed pledges to help prevent forest fires and thus become Junior Rangers.

Tim had written the service about getting a horse for use this summer in tracking down possible fires around Hawk Run.

The service is writing Tim saying Snaky Bear, its symbol of fire fighter walks through the woods and expects his helpers to do the same.

Bandleader Sued
LOS ANGELES (INS) — The former wife of bandleader Benny Carter demanded $30,000 damages from him, charging that he beat her severely during a "business dispute." Singer Laverne Carter said in a Superior Court assault and battery suit that she suffered head and spinal injuries as a result of the alleged beating.

Fireworks Set
WUPPERTAL, Germany (AP) — A German fireworks firm announced it is sending experts to shoot off fireworks at the wedding of Prince Ramer and Grace Kelly. The production is called "Night of the Thousand Stars" and is said to be the latest in pyrotechnical art.

U.S. Government Warns: 'Hoxsey Cancer Treatment Is Worthless'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FDA said today adding that there is no evidence that potassium iodide accelerates the growth of some cancers. "Quite apart from this it said the drugs are worthless in the treatment of cancer."

The Food and Drug Administration, in a document being published in the Federal Register, attacked the work of Harry Hoxsey. It marked the first time FDA took precisely such action to warn the public against any medicine or treatment.

Some of the medicines used by Hoxsey contains potassium iodide.

Hoxsey said his clinics have 10,000 patients and that he has records "proving that we have been successful after radium X-ray and surgery have failed."

However, the FDA said that in its own lengthy studies it has found a single certified cure of internal cancer effect by the Hoxsey treatment. In addition it said the National Cancer Institute reviewed case histories submitted by Hoxsey and could find no scientific evidence that the treatment has any value.

Hoxsey Indignant

At his clinic in Dallas Hoxsey contended the FDA document is libelous and slanderous and is filled with lies and half truths. He told newsmen:

"I will go to Washington in a few days to make arrangements for a lawsuit. You can count on that."

Beck Files Re-Election Candidacy Via Deputy

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

From his bed where he is confined this week with a virus infection, Attorney General C. S. Beck Wednesday sent the completion of his filing for re-election to the secretary of state's office.

Beck, a North Platte attorney, is a veteran of both World Wars and has held his present position since appointment in 1950. He was

NPPS Lets Big Contracts For Lincoln

The two largest construction contracts awarded by the Nebraska Public Power System (NPPS) Wednesday will go for improvements in Lincoln.

The contracts are part of the $14,379 NPPS 1956-57 system improvement program.

The total amount was approximately $200,000 under engineering estimates for the work.

The largest contract, for erection of a new East Lincoln substation, was awarded to the Gustav Hirsch organization of Columbus, O., on a low bid of $312,272.

A new steam boiler and accessories are to be installed at the K St. steam plant in Lincoln. The contract was awarded to Babcock and Wilcox Co. at $290,314.

Other projects and the successful low bidders were:

Control and metering equipment at the Bremer and Oakland substations, $128,000. General Electric Co.

Capacitor installation to boost voltage at the Beatrice substation, $75,000. General Electric Co.

Capacitor and metering equipment at the Oakland and Bremer substations, $137,545. Elton Construction Co.

deputy and assistant in the office from 1930 to that time.

A Republican, he was the last incumbent to file. He announced several days ago that he had paid his filing fee. His deputy, Clarence Mayer, completed the filing Wednesday.

Beck is a former Lincoln County attorney and served as head of both the American Legion and Elks in his home town.

Beck was graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Law and has been in active law practice for 33 years.

Glenn Cunningham, Savings Bond director and former mayor of Omaha, mailed in his filing for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Second District. He resigned Tuesday.

"I am staking everything I have on a successful campaign," said the former Chamber of Commerce employee who moved to the Board of Education and then city government.

He has been named Omaha and Nebraska Outstanding Young Man and has been a delegate to two Republican national conventions.

Other candidates filed for the office include: Paul Kruger, Fort Calhoun; Tom R. Espen, William H. Thomas and Warren R. Swigart all of Omaha.

Richard R. Larsen, Omaha, filed on the Democratic ticket as a candidate for state treasurer.

First Democrat

Fred Sorensen, Omaha, filed as a Republican candidate for Railroad Commissioner.

Three Omahas, sought to go to the Democratic national convention. Robert B. Baburek filed as a delegate and Minnie Olson and Robert K. Garrity as alternates. All want to represent the Second Congressional District.

seats in the Legislature.

Three filed from Lancaster County included Mark A. Buchholz who seeks to represent the 18th District and Charles E. Glade and George Fenger in the 20th.

In a statement, Fenger said he was seeking "an improved and more economical method of caring for our physically and mentally handicapped." He said the assistance program has developed into a task too large for the type of control presently exercised.

Efficiency

"Correcting this situation and eliminating its many financial wastes will result in better, more efficient state government and coupled with a more equitable tax base will bring substantial relief to many persons now in an over-

Ike's Primary Petition Filed By Governor

Petitions with 2,271 signers were filed with the secretary of state Wednesday to place the name of President Dwight Eisenhower on the Republican preferential ballot. Gov. Victor Anderson presented the petitions.

The governor said the 110 petitions were represented by districts as follows: first, 272 signers; second, 366; third, 526; and fourth, 507. The law requires 400 signers with 100 from each district.

The petitions were circulated through the regular party organization and the governor explained that because there are fewer counties in the second district, there were few signatures. The district includes Douglas County.

Fred Seaton, assistant to the president was expected to be present with an acceptance from the President, but he was detained by other business. Frank Marsh, secretary of state, said law does not require that the acceptance be filed before April 20, when the ballot is sent to the various counties.

Marsh said he sent a telegram to the President advising him that the petitions had been filed. He advised him, "To comply with Nebraska statutes your written consent to have your name placed on the ballot must reach this office by 5 p.m., April 20 or your name will not appear."

Marsh said he understood Seaton would bring the acceptance before that time. The only other presidential preference nominee is Sen. Estes Kefauver, Democrat.

"We have been asked why we went to the trouble of getting the petitions signed," Gov. Anderson said. "The feeling was that in view of the fact the President is a candidate, he should show some interest."

"In politics, if you do not show interest, the public sometimes gets the idea you are complacent and you are defeated. While I am not quoting the President directly, the general feeling was that he should be an active candidate."

Latest date for accepting filings for office is 5 p.m. Thursday.

Tornado Cleanup Begins

By The Associated Press

Cleanup operations were pushed Wednesday in many communities left torn and battered by the season's worst rash of death-dealing tornadoes and destructive winds.

The two-day storm toll in the 13 midcontinent states affected Reached 44 dead, more than 375 injured and property damage near 15 million dollars.

The American Red Cross said in Washington that 320 homes were destroyed, 969 damaged and 1,496 families affected in the eight states hardest hit Monday and Tuesday.

Workers Move In

The Red Cross reports came from Michigan, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Kansas, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, and Missouri.

Red Cross disaster specialists and scores of Salvation Army officers and workers moved into the stricken areas with emergency relief equipment.

A cold front that triggered the tornadoes moved eastward into Pennsylvania, Virginia and North Carolina Wednesday and relatively calm weather prevailed in the midcontinent.

Army Plans Wide-Spread Engine Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army disclosed plans Wednesday for a new type of airplane with four flat-topped engines for quick takeoffs and short landings.

Where a conventional plane uses only a third of its wing surface for the engines, which are bunched close to the fuselage, the new Army craft will use the principle of spreading the engines out as much as possible over the entire length of the wing.

The plane will use piston engines, not jets. The Army looks for the new principle to provide so much added lift that the plane will be in the vertical takeoff (VTOL) or short takeoff and landing (STOL) class.

First Of Kind

The $1,007,087 research and development contract, the first of its kind the Army has ever awarded directly, went to the Fairchild Aircraft Division, Hagerstown, Md.

The contract was let by the Transportation Corps Research and Development Command at Ft. Eustis, Va.

Other similar research contracts are to be let soon, the Army said.

Peterson OK After Minor Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Val Peterson, Federal Civil Defense Administrator, was "getting along fine" after a minor operation.

Peterson jokingly told a reporter by telephone that he was probably in more pain from the hide I explained that he apparently pulled something in his back last week and had it heavily taped with surgical bandage.

"I forgot my skin was so tender," Peterson said. "I used to get a lot of tape like that when I played football. But when I pulled off that tape I pulled off part of my hide. Between the two, I don't know but what that is the most painful."

Alabama High Court Judge Kills Himself

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (INS) — Associate Justice James J. Mayfield of the Alabama Supreme Court took his own life Wednesday in Montgomery.

He was found lying in bed at the apartment where he lived alone, a pistol by his side. Coroner M.D. Kirkpatrick said it was "undoubtedly unalterably suicide."

Mayfield, who taught law at the University of Alabama previously, was elected to fill an unexpired term on the court in 1954. Friends said he had worried in recent days about his campaign for re-election in the May 1 Democratic primary and about his health.

China Lauds, For 1st Time, Stalin Blast

TOKYO (Thursday) (AP) — Communist China today for the first time applauded the Soviet Union's denunciation of Stalin and admitted it made errors of its own. It also denounced one-man rule.

The statement came from what a Peiping broadcast said was an enlarged meeting of the Politburo, the powerful ruling body of the Chinese Communist party.

Red China's party has been silent on the policy changes wrought by the 20th Communist party Congress in Moscow where Stalin was first criticized.

The Chinese have built up Mao Tze-tung, ruler of Red China much as the Russians elevated Stalin.

Background

Mao, however, has remained much more in the background, being content to let such lieutenants as Premier Chou En-lai take the stage.

The statement:

1. Denounced the "cult of the individual" which it linked to Stalin. It backed the principle of collective leadership.

2. Admitted that mistakes had been made in the past and would probably be made in the future.

3. Spoke of "dangers" that could develop if individual leaders became "concentrated and not circumspect."

4. Praised Lenin and criticized Stalin's divergence from his principles.

deputy and assistant in the office from 1939 to that time.

A Republican, he was the last incumbent to file. He announced several days ago that he had paid his filing fee. His deputy, Clarence Mayer, completed the filing Wednesday.

Beck is a former Lincoln County attorney and served as head of both the American Legion and Elks in his home town.

Beck was graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Law and has been in active law practice for 33 years.

Glenn Cunningham, Savings Bond director and former mayor of Omaha, mailed in his filing for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Second District. He resigned Tuesday.

"I am staking everything I have on a successful campaign," said the former Chamber of Commerce employee who moved to the Board of Education and then city government.

He has been named Omaha and Nebraska Outstanding Young Man and has been a delegate to two Republican national conventions.

Other candidates filed for the office include: Paul Kruger, Fort Calhoun; Tom R. Espen, William H. Thomas and Warren R. Swigart all of Omaha.

First Democrat
Harry (Andy) Anderson, Omaha, filed as a Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor. He is the first Democrat to seek the office.

The only spots remaining open on the Democratic state ticket are Auditor and Secretary of State.

Fred Sorensen, Omaha, filed as a Republican candidate for Railway Commissioner.

Three Omahans, sought to go to the Democratic national convention. Robert B. Baburek filed as a delegate and Minnie Olson and Robert K. Garrity as alternates. All want to represent the Second Congressional District.

Greater interest centered on seats in the Legislature. Three filed from Lancaster County included Mark A. Buchholz who seeks to represent the 18th District and Charles E. Glade and George Fenger in the 20th.

In a statement, Fenger said he was seeking "an improved and more economical method of caring for our physically and mentally handicapped." He said the assistance program has developed into a task too large for the type of control presently exercised.

Efficiency
"Correcting this situation and eliminating it's many financial wastes will result in better, more efficient state government and coupled with a more equitable tax base will bring substantial relief to many persons now in an over-

Fenger is 31, married and has three children.

Others filing Wednesday were: Charles E. Pearce, Columbus, Legislature 26th District

John E. Rice, Bellevue, 3rd District.

Emil Fricke, Papillion, 3rd District.

Milt Prebyl, Beatrice, 21st District.

Joseph G. Strawn, Papillion, 3rd District.

Herman M. Carmean, Chadron, 41st District.

Claude D. Letton, Ashland, 17th District.

C. D. "Neal" Haskell, Laurel, 14th District.

Walter B. Omak, Omaha, 10th District.

Two Omaha men filed for district judge in the 4th District. They were William J. Lindsay and Lawrence C. Krell.

Jack Elliott, Scottsbluff, who previously filled a vacancy, filed as a candidate for regent of the University of Nebraska from the 6th District.

China Lauds, For 1st Time, Stalin Blast

T O K Y O. (Thursday) (U) — Communist China today for the first time applauded the Soviet Union's dethronement of Stalin and admitted it made errors of its own. It also denounced one-man rule.

The statement came from what a Peiping broadcast said was an "enlarged meeting" of the Politburo, the powerful ruling body of the Chinese Communist party.

Red China's party has been silent on the policy changes wrought by the 20th Communist party Congress in Moscow where Stalin was first criticized.

The Chinese have built up Mao Tze-tung, ruler of Red China much as the Russians elevated Stalin.

Background
Mao, however, has remained much more in the background, being content to let such lieutenants as Premier Chou En-lai take the stage.

The statement:
1. Denounced the "cult of the individual" which it linked to Stalin. It backed the principle of collective leadership.

2. Admitted that mistakes had been made in the past and would probably be made in the future.

3. Spoke of "dangers" that could develop if individual leaders became "conceited and not circumspect."

4. Praised Lenin and criticized Stalin's divergence from his principles.

1974 Bond Nos. 1056 to 1120, $55,000.00
1975 Bond Nos. 1121 to 1185, $55,000.00
1976 Bond Nos. 1186 to 1250, $55,000.00
Bonds numbered 281 to 1,300 inclusive maturing on May 1, of each of the years 1992 to 1976 inclusive shall be redeemable, prior to maturity at par and accrued interest, as a whole or in part, at the option of the city at any time or after five years from date. If less than all of the bonds numbered 281 to 1,300 inclusive are to be redeemed at any time, the bonds to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in any usual manner.

Principal and interest will be payable at the office of the County Treasurer of Lancaster County, at Lincoln, Nebraska. Said bonds were authorized to be issued by said city pursuant to a charter amendment approved by the voters of said city at an election held on and for said city on June 15, 1954, for the purpose of constructing, extending, or improving, or improvements or betterments to the storm sewer system of said city.

Said bonds will be general obligations of the city payable from ad valorem taxes levied upon all the taxable property in said city without limitation as to rate or amount. The assessed value of taxable property in the city for the current year as equalized and determined is $144,500,000. The total aggregate indebtedness of the city of every kind and character with the issue of these bonds be $6,566,000, of which $2,056,000.00 is special assessment bonds. The population of the city is approximately 120,000.

Bids must be for all and not a part of said bonds; said bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder on the basis of the lowest interest cost to the city. Interest rates shall be multiples of one-fourth of one per cent or one tenth of one per cent, and the best bid the interest shall bear interest at the same rate and no bid will be considered for less than par and no maturity shall bear interest at a greater rate than three per cent (3%) per annum. In determining the best bid the interest cost to the city will be computed by determining the interest from May 1, 1956, to absolute maturity of the bonds at the rate or rates specified by the bidder, after deducting any premium offered.

No specified form of bid is required, but each bid shall definitely state the dollar amount, if any, and the calculation of the net interest cost expressed as a percentage.

Bids will be publicly opened in the Council Chamber in the City Hall of said city of Lincoln, Nebraska, at 11:00 o'clock A.M. Central Standard Time, on Monday, May 7, 1956, and the award will be made to the successful bidder as soon thereafter as possible.

Said bonds will be delivered with the unqualified approval of Chapman and Cutler, Attorneys, Chicago, Illinois, and said opinion is to be paid for by said city; the printed bonds to be supplied by the successful bidder, and all bids must be so conditioned. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check drawn on a state or national bank and made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer in the sum of $20,000.00 as a guarantee of good faith and for security for the performance of such bid and as liquidated damages. In case the successful bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds.

All proposals shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked on the outside, "PROPOSAL FOR BONDS," and addressed to Thomas H. Berig, City Clerk, at the City Hall in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The city of Lincoln reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any defect in bids.

By Order of the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Lancaster County, Nebraska, this 26th day of March, 1956.

THOMAS H. BERIG, City Clerk.

Ike's Primary Petition Filed By Governor

Petitions with 2,271 signers were filed with the secretary of state Wednesday to place the name of President Dwight Eisenhower on the Republican preferential ballot.

Gov. Victor Anderson presented the petitions.

The governor said the 110 petitions were represented by districts as follows: first, 872 signers; second, 366; third, 526; and fourth, 507. The law requires 400 signers with 100 from each district.

The petitions were circulated through the regular party organization and the governor explained that because there are fewer counties in the second district, there were few signatures. The district includes Douglas County.

Fred Seaton, assistant to the president was expected to be present with an acceptance from the President, but he was detained by other business. Frank Marsh, secretary of state, said law does not require that the acceptance be filed before April 20, when the ballot is sent to the various counties.

Marsh said he sent a telegram to the President advising him that the petitions had been filed. He advised him, "To comply with Nebraska statutes your written consent to have your name placed on the ballot must reach this office by 5 p.m., April 20 or your name will not appear."

Marsh said he understood Seaton would bring the acceptance before that time. The only other presidential preference nominee is Sen. Estes Kefauver, Democrat.

"We have been asked why we went to the trouble of getting the petitions signed," Gov. Anderson said. "The feeling was that in view of the fact the President is a candidate, he should show some interest."

"In politics, if you do not show interest, the public sometimes gets the idea you are complacent and you are defeated. While I am not quoting the President directly, the general feeling was that he should be an active candidate."

Latest date for accepting filings for office is 5 p.m. Thursday.

Peterson OK After Minor Surgery

WASHINGTON (U)—Val Peterson, Federal Civil Defense Administrator, was "getting along fine" after a minor operation.

Peterson jokingly told a reporter by telephone that he was probably in more pain "from the hide I pulled off" than from the surgery.

He explained that he apparently pulled something in his back last week and had it heavily taped with surgical bandage.

"I forgot my skin was so tender," Peterson said. "I used to get a lot of tape like that when I played football. But when I pulled off that tape I pulled off part of my hide. Between the two, I don't know but what that is the most painful."

Wheat Is Leader As Grains Advance

CHICAGO (U)—Wheat led a general advance of all grain futures prices Wednesday on the Board of Trade with many contracts reaching new highs for the season.

A large open interest in the May wheat contract and small stocks of deliverable wheat in the Chicago area caused buying which boosted the nearby contract 4 1/2 cents a bushel.

Wheat again ranged down to 1 1/2 on most March deliveries.

The short covering pressure was met by expert orders and domestic flour sales. Soybeans resumed their advance on reports of assured continuation of rising prices for soybean meal and oil. Corn futures moved up 1/2 cent to 1 1/2 on a bushel, but were held back by a heavy open interest in the May contract.

The soybean trade fanned from 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 on a bushel, but was held back by a heavy open interest in the May contract.

However, the market was dominated by strong demand for soybean meal and oil, and over much of the winter wheat crop.

Stevenson Sees Role As Mediator Of Right And Left

KINGSLAND, Ga. — Adlai Stevenson said Wednesday he hopes to fill the role of mediator in both domestic and foreign fields in an effort to unite extremists of the right and the left.

In a copyrighted interview with M. L. St. John, political editor of the Atlanta Constitution, Stevenson conceded this role is becoming increasingly difficult.

"But," he said, "it also becomes more and more important that the mediator's role be filled. The hope that I could fill that role, in both domestic and foreign fields, is the only satisfaction I get out of seeking the presidency again."

The candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination emphasized unity throughout the interview—unity of the North and the South on the segregation problem, unity of the Democratic party and unity of the world.

"The fate of the world depends today on unity among Americans," he said. "To have that unity we must settle the segregation problem peacefully, honorably and according to our law, our conscience and our religion."

"I believe deeply that there is this unity in America's heart and I believe that no man North or South has any greater present duty than to help find the way to unite this nation and find the right answer to this problem."

Stevenson was interviewed at the Harry Guggenheim estate near Kingsland where he is vacationing briefly before delivering a campaign speech at Jacksonville, Fla., Friday. He will be competing with Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) for votes in Florida's preferential primary May 29. Kefauver now is campaigning in Florida.

Informed that Kefauver, in a speech at West Palm Beach proposed a "temporary truce" between the two candidates on the ground that charges made in primary fights might divide the Democratic party, Stevenson said: "I shall be glad to have the truce. I have nothing unkind to say about Sen. Kefauver. However, it is deplorable that he put his personal interest ahead of the party's interest when he announced party officers as bosses simply because they preferred me to him."

'Mrs. Carol Foraker' Dies In Chicago

Mrs. Carol Foraker, 25, of Chicago, formerly of Lincoln, died in Chicago after a short illness. Funeral services are to be held in Omaha.

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the easiest and "cleanest" home rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is now available after years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.

Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical to use as 1/2 gallon of concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.
